Washington (CFA)—While the Hoover administration doesn't take sides in primary fight, the victory of James J. Davis, secretary of labor, over Senator Grundy in the Republican primary contest for the senatorial nomination has brought considerable satisfaction to President Hoover.

Mr. Davis can be counted upon to support the president if he is elected, while Mr. Grundy was rather frank in his criticism of the chief executive. Also the fact that a member of the president's cabinet went before the people and won his race is gratifying by contrast with what might have been said if he had been repudiated at the polls.

Politically the Democrats here who have their eyes on the national congressional situation would have preferred to see Mr. Grundy nominated for they would have associated him with the making of the tariff bill on which they intend to develop a major issue.

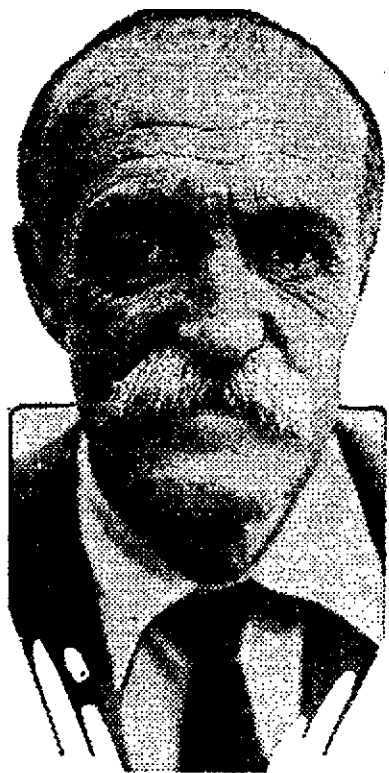

Mr. Davis said very little about the tariff in his speeches.

Secretary Davis is really popular here with all parties. A Democratic senator examining the returns said: "It would be better for us if Grundy won but I'd like to see him beaten for Jim's sake."

POPULAR AT CAPITAL
The whole capital calls him Jim Davis. Ever since the beginning of the Harding administration he has proved himself one of the best mixers in the national capital. President Coolidge found it difficult to replace him when Mr. Davis wanted to retire and Mr. Hoover tried to reconcile the different factions in the labor world and came to the conclusion that he had better keep Mr. Davis in the department of labor.

Having originally worked as an iron puddler Jim Davis captured the imagination of the labor world while at the same time recognizing that the three presidents under

Jumps Into Lead

GIFFORD PINCHOT

Pinchot May Face New Foe In November

Wet Leader Says "Coalition Liberal Candidate" Will Enter Field

Philadelphia (P)—Announcement that a "coalition liberal candidate" for governor would take the field at the November election in opposition to Gifford Pinchot, was made today by Robert K. Cassatt, chairman of the Pennsylvania division of the association for the Prohibition Amendment.

With 108 districts missing, unofficial returns from Tuesday's primary Pinchot has a lead of 11,348 over Francis Shunk Brown for the Republican nomination for governor of Pennsylvania.

The latest figures showed a reduction of a few hundreds in the Pinchot plurality as a result of tabulation of all but seven districts in Allegheny-co, which includes the city of Pittsburgh, complete.

The totals for 8,593 districts out of 8,701 in the state give Pinchot 624,454; Brown 613,109 and Thomas W. Phillips, Jr., wet candidate, 260,873.

Remaining unreported districts are in isolated rural territory.

The unofficial vote from 8,307 districts for senator gave Secretary Davis 715,454; Senator Grundy 476,806 and Francis H. Bohlen, wet, 235,574.

P. S. Stahlmecker, manager of the Pinchot campaign, said that he had been informed 43 ballot boxes in Lackawanna-co had been impounded for the instance of Pinchot supporters.

He said in one Lackawanna-co district 615 votes had been reported for Brown and 9 for Pinchot.

Thirty-three members of the Pennsylvania delegation in congress were renominated by the Republican party in Tuesday's primary.

One contest remained in doubt today and the remaining two of the 100 per cent Republican group in congress from Pennsylvania not candidates for re-election.

The undecided contest was that of Congressman Patrick J. Sullivan of the 34th district, Pittsburgh, who seeks both party nominations. Patrick J. O'Malley contested for the Republican nomination and Michael B. Donnelly for the Democratic.

LAUDS HOOVER BUT FAILS TO PROMISE AID

Says It's Good Thing for Prohibition Issue to Be Agitated by Wets

Washington (P)—A finish fight between those for and against prohibition was heralded before the senate lobby committee today by T. Scott McBride.

Questioned by Chairman Caraway, the wets said it was "probably a good thing" for the issue to be agitated by the wets.

"I think it will have to be fought out and settled for all time by a contest of that kind," he asserted.

The discussion followed testimony that the league was attempting to raise a fund of $300,000 a year to make a campaign in favor of the eighteenth amendment.

Records also had been introduced showing the organization had been pledged future contributions of $18,705,922.

McBride said the Pennsylvania Republican primary results was "the biggest blow to the wets that has yet come."

Asked if he was glad wets were running for the senate from New Jersey, he said smilingly he was glad there were two wets and one dry.

The witness said the league had endorsed Secretary Davis and Senator Grundy in the Pennsylvania primary.

Caraway asked McBride if he knew what President Hoover's prohibition views were and was told Secretary Davis ought to know since he was a cabinet member.

Asked if the league's campaign had not "dropped off" since prohibition was adopted, McBride said it had "never let up, in its educational work."

He added that campaign would be more effective when the "issue is kept."

The league superintendent said he had hoped the wets "would be good sports" and give up their campaign.

Senator Blaine, Wisconsin, read from league records that pledges made in 1929 amounted to $5,315,498. He added that the cost of collection was $3,820,434, and that net proceeds were $1,495,064.

FRANKS PRESIDENT
McBride said he was very much pleased with most of the things done by the present administration for prohibition enforcement, "but that it was too early yet to say whether the league would support Hoover for reelection."

"What are the accomplishments?" Caraway demanded.

"They are so many that it would burden the record," McBride said.

"It would burden you to think of one," Caraway said.

McBride said he thought the transfer of prohibition enforcement from the treasury to the justice department would be a good thing.

"I don't think the dries are getting any help from the present administration," Caraway commented.

"I think the administration is making good," McBride rejoined.

Caraway later ordered struck from the record his comments on the Hoover administration.

Pershing And Claudel Pay Tribute To War Mothers

French Ambassador and U. S. General Laud Mothers for Spirit of Sacrifice

Paris (P)—Ambassador Claudel of France, and General John J. Pershing, for the United States, today voiced the sympathies of their nations to the more than 200 Gold Star Mothers who are visiting military cemeteries where their boys are buried.

The ambassador and the soldier who commanded the American Expeditionary forces in France joined their tributes at public ceremonies which today provided a tender climax to the pilgrimage of the mothers from the United States.

The consecration, which was spontaneous, occurred at a luncheon given by the American club in Paris to Ambassador Claudel, who had been invited to speak on the French influence in the United States.

One of the largest companies in the history of the club was present, with General Pershing among the notable guests. After welcoming M. Claudel as a "great ambassador," General Pershing turned immediately to the pilgrimage of the American War Mothers and wives. It was the only proper thing, he said, for the American government to arrange for the visit of these mothers to the graves of their sons.

Speaking in solemn tones, General Pershing asked all present to stop and think of the meaning of this visit.

"These American mothers," General Pershing said, "are bringing to France again the spirit conveyed during the war by their heroic sons. They are reviving the splendid spirit of cooperation, devotion and patriotism. I hope all will give a thought to the significance of this splendid pilgrimage."

"These war mothers represent a cross section of the motherhood of America. What greater tribute can we pay to all the motherhood of

185 BOYS, 26 NUNS ESCAPE FROM FIRE

Flee in Night Clothes from Burning Building Without Single Injury

Milwaukee (P)—Under the leadership of a motorcycle officer 185 boys from 10 to 15 years old were saved from a fire that swept St. Aemilian's orphan asylum early today. None was injured.

When a motorist telephoned Bayview police station that he believed the orphanage was afire Motorcycle Officer Nels Goodman was sent to investigate. The officer saw a bright glow in one section of the building. He stopped several motorists and bade them sound their car horns while he speeded back to a fire alarm box.

Then he returned to find the 26 nuns of the orphanage rushing the youngsters out. They were huddled on the lawn in midnight. Officer Goodman and the Rev. Joseph Baier, assistant superintendent of the orphanage, searched through the smoke-filled halls and blazing rooms for boys who might not have been awakened. Father Baier was clad only in night dress and bath robe.

The town of Lake fire department was unable to cope with the rapidly spreading blaze. A high wind drove it from one unit of the building to another. A truck and engine from Milwaukee departments were sent.

The children were taken to two Catholic seminaries and an academy as soon as they were rescued. Most of them slept in their new homes throughout most of the fire.

Fire department officials estimated the loss at $350,000.

JUSTICE SENDS COUPLE TO PASTOR TO BE WED

Platteville (P)—There is one Wisconsin justice of the peace who will never gain the reputation of the marrying justice. When Gus F. Smith and Dovie B. Hughes appeared before Justice J. H. Lewis to be married yesterday he explained that he has no prejudices against marrying a pair, but believes the marriage ceremony inadequate to impress the parties. He suggested they go to a minister. They did.

TOO MUCH MASH IN SEWERS OVER-TAXES FOND DU LAC PLANT

Fond du Lac (P)—City officials today said they had been forced to enlarge the city's disposal equipment to cope with huge quantities of mash dumped into sewers by manufacturers of illicit liquor. The officials said in addition to the disposal problem, they were bothered to end by sewer pipes being continually clogged with mash.

HEIRESS PLANS TO LIVE ON $35 WEEK EARNED BY HUSBAND

New York (P)—The Daily News says today that Dolores Elizabeth Ford, 24, daughter of William Ford, Toledo, Ohio, glass manufacturer, had instructed her father to discontinue her $12,000 annual allowance and intends to live on the $35-a-week wages of her husband, a plumber's assistant.

Louis Matthews, the plumber's helper, is her fourth husband, whom she married immediately after the annulment in Buffalo, N. Y., of her marriage to Eugene Newton, a mulatto cabaret employee, May 7.

The News quotes Mrs. Matthews as saying: "I am not planning on using any of my father's money. I don't want any of it. I told daddy I was marrying Lou and that we would live on his $35 salary. My father told me he would continue to allow me until I asked him to stop—and I have done just that."

Matthews said they were going to Richmond, Va., his home where he has a job helping to put up a metal garage.

Ends Life By Shooting Self Thru Heart

Anton Heier, 64, an unmarried man living with his nephew, Robert Burns, about three miles north of Hortonville, ended his life by shooting himself through the heart with a shotgun this morning. The body was found about 12:30 this noon by Mr. Burns when he went out to search for his uncle who had been missing about three hours.

Heier held the stock of the gun against a barn while he leaned against a mule, touching off the trigger with a stick.

District Attorney Stanley A. Stadl and Coroner H. E. Ellsworth visited the place this afternoon and pronounced it suicide.

No reason was ascribed for the shooting.

Heier is survived by three brothers, Frank and Wenzel of Hortonville and Charles of Texas; two sisters, Mrs. Mary Smith of Appleton and Mrs. Theresa Barnum of Hortonville.

He said the organization sought to build a great appreciation of and respect for the services of business and professional men and lauded the group for assisting to convey both national and international good will.

Sherboygan (P)—Southern Wisconsin district Rotary club members today nominated Joseph W. Jackson, Madison, for district governor. He will be formally elected at the International Rotary convention in Chicago in June.

MacDonald Ministry In Battle For Confidence

London (P)—The ministry of J. Ramsay MacDonald, second Labor government in the history of Great Britain, girded itself today for a battle for its existence.

It was expected that at a meeting of the parliamentary Labor party this evening the prime minister will ask for a vote of confidence in the ministry's unemployment program.

Failing to achieve it, he probably will ask King George to dissolve parliament and then will take the question to the country.

The situation is the outgrowth of the resignation of Sir Oswald Mosley, Labor convert from Conservative and Independent ranks, as chancellor of the duchy of Lancaster, after Mr. MacDonald and the ministry had failed to endorse plans put forward by Sir Oswald for handling of unemployment.

The resignation has brought to a head the long forming dissatisfaction with the government's failure to decrease the number of men without jobs and materially to better social conditions among them. So strong is this dissatisfaction among the ranks of the opposition, it has reached something like mutiny among the left wing members of the Labor party itself.

It was believed in government circles the parliamentarians meeting tonight will give Mr. MacDonald the vote of confidence he will request, since going to the country in a general election under the cloud of the unemployment discussion would greatly lessen the party's chances at the polls.

But, assuming that the government gets safely over tonight's hurdle, it has another big fence to clear next Wednesday when the unemployment problem is discussed on a Conservative motion to reduce the salary of J. H. Thomas, lord privy seal and minister for unemployment, this being the traditional method of calling to account the efficiency of a departmental head.

In this discussion the usual Liberal support may be lacking.

Woman May Be Quizzed In Slayings

Menominee, Mich., Friend of VanVeghel Said to Have Quarreled With Him

Green Bay (P)—One clew in the double slaying of Jack VanVeghel and Lucille Birdsall was eliminated today, but another appeared to take its place. Brown-co authorities, after questioning a Sturgeon Bay man supposed to have sworn vengeance on the couple, decided he had nothing to do with the case. He told of having left VanVeghel's Golden Pheasant roadhouse Sunday evening.

Green Bay (P)—Dist. Atty. Verne Lowellen today indicated the search for clews in the double slaying of Lucille Birdsall, 24, and Jack VanVeghel, 36, found hatched to death in a bed room of VanVeghel's roadhouse here, might include questioning a Menominee, Mich., woman reported to have been a close friend of the slain man.

According to information given the district attorney, VanVeghel several months ago took a woman believed to be Miss Birdsall to Menominee and introduced her to the "other woman" as his wife. Words were exchanged and a quarrel was reported between VanVeghel and the Menominee woman.

Sheriff William Nicolai expressed the belief the double slaying was prompted by revenge motives. Frank Kupczak, 28, Milwaukee, former husband of Miss Birdsall, is held in jail here for questioning after he volunteered to come to Green Bay. The sheriff said a checkup of friends of the slain couple might bring to light persons who may have been motivated to kill the two because of jealousy.

The district attorney said little was learned by questioning a Sturgeon Bay man, said to have been a friend of VanVeghel, after the latter ousted him from his roadhouse Sunday.

The Sturgeon Bay man, Cliff Olson, said he had visited the Golden Pheasant Sunday night, and had been in or near Green Bay until Monday morning, when he took a bus home. He insisted he was so drunk he could not remember what had happened during the night. He will be questioned again today.

FEW ARE INJURED
The British government issued a statement today that only three or four of the Nationalist volunteers injured yesterday in the clash with police during the raiding at Dharamasa were injured seriously. The government estimated that 2,650 volunteers took part in the raid.

The communiqué added that the All-India National congress estimated the total number of seriously injured at 170. Other estimates were as high as 634. Injuries received by police were limited to bruises and scratches.

Alarming news came from the northwest frontier, a report from Peshawar saying that severe casualties had been inflicted by British bombers in the forests of the Ilag of Turinaz, which have remained in a threatening position near the Indian border since beginning of the present unrest.

A run on the Bank of India, begun yesterday, continued today, with the numbers of those withdrawing their deposits somewhat smaller. The directorate of the bank issued a statement that the institution's managers had not participated in the police action in raiding congress headquarters here or at Dharamasa and Wadhwa but the statement had little effect on the Hindus.

EXTENSIVE TOURS PLANNED BY HOOVER

Thousands of Miles Ahead for President if He Carries Through Plans

Washington (P)—Thousands of miles of travel lie before President Hoover this year, if he carries through the tentative itinerary now in prospect.

With a month's trip to the Pacific coast definitely planned for the summer, the chief executive also has under consideration a visit to Boston for the American legion convention in October and the completion of the good will tour of Latin America, begun when he was president-elect, by visiting Cuba and Mexico.

He would, however, have to average more than 1,500 miles a month between now and the opening of congress in December to complete the extensive program.

Both Cuba and President Ortiz Rubio of Mexico have been assured by Mr. Hoover that he would visit them during his term in office as he had planned to do before he cut short his good will tour in 1928. It is now felt the Mexican trip should be undertaken in the cool months of the year, and since this would limit the time to the latter part of October and November, if the president is to be back when congress convenes, the trip may not be found practicable this year.

While the western tour has been determined upon, probably in August, the itinerary is yet indefinite. Mr. Hoover's first intention was to visit the Rocky mountain parks. Later it was said a plan for cutting across from Yellowstone park to Portland, Seattle and Tacoma was being considered. Some time during the trip, however, Mr. Hoover expects to visit his home at Palo Alto, Calif. This trip alone would mean traveling more than 5,000 miles.

It was believed in government circles the parliamentarians meeting tonight will give Mr. MacDonald the vote of confidence he will request, since going to the country in a general election under the cloud of the unemployment discussion would greatly lessen the party's chances at the polls.

But, assuming that the government gets safely over tonight's hurdle, it has another big fence to clear next Wednesday when the unemployment problem is discussed on a Conservative motion to reduce the salary of J. H. Thomas, lord privy seal and minister for unemployment, this being the traditional method of calling to account the efficiency of a departmental head.

In this discussion the usual Liberal support may be lacking.

THRONGS EYE SKY FOR 1ST VIEW OF GRAF

No Mishap Reported from Aboard Dirigible After Crossing Equator

EXACT PLANS UNKNOWN
Crowds Flock into Pernambuco for Sight of Giant German Blimp

Rio Janeiro (P)—Pernambuco has unofficially reported that the Graf Zeppelin will arrive there between 3 and 4 o'clock p. m. E. S. T.

Pernambuco, Brazil (P)—The population was flocking into Pernambuco this afternoon by thousands, all anxious to see the Graf Zeppelin. All hotels are filled. Boarding houses are overflowing and late arrivals face the likelihood of having to turn back after the Zeppelin's arrival or, failing to find quarters in private homes, spend the night out of doors.

Special trains brought many thousands of persons who crowded about the newspaper bulletin boards, where the Zeppelin's progress was being recorded, and watched eagerly for developments, with the same enthusiasm that Americans show for baseball and fight headlines.

The first Battalion of infantry this afternoon marched out to the landing field to observe and perfect its technique in landing the Zeppelin. Forces of state and city police and firemen were at the field handling the crowd.

It was predicted, upon the basis of wireless messages, that the Zeppelin would arrive about 3 o'clock p. m. local time, 3 o'clock p. m. Atlantic time.

Fernando de Noronha, Brazil (P)—The Hugo Eckener, the Graf Zeppelin, rapidly nearing the end of her south Atlantic flight from Seville, Spain, to Pernambuco, flew over the island of Fernando de Noronha off the Brazilian coast at 1:30 p. m. today (4:30 a. m. Appleton time).

After circling around the penal colony for 15 minutes, the Zeppelin turned toward the Brazilian coast 125 miles away and started on the final hop to Pernambuco.

The Graf Zeppelin, bound for Pernambuco and Rio Janeiro, crossed the equator this morning and made its first appearance in the southern hemisphere.

The Hugo Eckener, who was making his first crossing of the equator, in accordance with the time-honored tradition of the sea. He was hailed by other members of the party who already had their papers as Norland's sons and daughters.

The Graf expected to reach Pernambuco this evening, stop over several hours, then go on to Rio Janeiro. After a brief stay at the Brazilian capital, Eckener planned to return to Pernambuco so as to be able to start for Havana Sunday or Monday.

PREPARE FOR WELCOME
Pernambuco, Brazil (P)—North-eastern Brazil and its most northerly section of the South American continent was prepared today to welcome the Graf Zeppelin, reported steadily approaching the coast from Seville, Spain.

It was not certain yet whether the Zeppelin would stop here before proceeding on to Rio Janeiro, or would wait until returning and stop as it proceeded north to Havana and Lakehurst. An amateur radio operator at Natal intercepted a message from the craft which said:

"After dinner Dr. Eckener talked to the passengers and said he was not yet sure of stopping at Natal (Pernambuco) or waiting, or sailing on directly to Rio Janeiro. The day has been over cast but the Cape Verde Islands frequently broke into view through the clouds—a wonderful panorama."

Previously Dr. Eckener had radioed that he expected to land at Pernambuco and take on additional water, remaining there about three hours. He then would continue on to Rio Janeiro, a distance of about 1,250 miles, arriving Friday morning.

A radio message received at Natal said that Dr. Meijas, personal physician to the king of Spain and a passenger aboard the ship, had been called upon to give medical aid to one of the crew who was ill. Doctor Meijas said that this proved the necessity of having a doctor aboard the ship on every trip, since many passengers never had been able to adapt themselves to travel by air.

The mooring mast constructed here for the Zeppelin has been painted red and white for greatest visibility, and a watchman has been stationed at the highest nearby point to get the first glimpse of the visitor from over the sea. Grandstands have been erected and provisions have been made for parking of motor cars to accommodate visitors.

People have gathered from all over the surrounding country, to witness the arrival of the Graf. Entrance fees to the field for those who wished to be on hand for their own camped at from 60 cents to $1.25 with highest prices for motor cars.

Curtis Denies All Illegal Dealings With Contractors

SAYS HIS PART ONLY THAT OF ANY ATTORNEY

Vice President's Son Says He Returned Fees When Name Was Being Used

Chicago. (P)—An investigation of complaints that Curtis Roemer sought "influence at Washington" to gain government contracts centered today around Harry K. Curtis, whose father is vice president of the United States.

Curtis, a Chicago lawyer, was questioned at length yesterday by Pat Roche, special investigator for the state's attorney, who is conducting the inquiry. He told of his dealings with and of legal work done for a group of contractors, but declared his part had been merely that of an attorney.

There have been no charges, Roche made clear, that any "pull" was ever exercised of the contractors; and Curtis said that any statements tending to place him in an improper position in the affair were untrue.

Curtis told Roche that last November he was visited by Mike Malloy, well known about the Loop but not to be confused with Mique Malloy, the fight promoter.

"I asked if I could get any government contracts," Curtis said, "and I replied that of course I could not."

Later Malloy returned, Curtis said, and declared he represented a group of contractors who wanted Curtis to find out dates on which bids were to be received by the government, and to get information as to specifications. Curtis said he accepted this commission—"perfectly legal work that any attorney could do," he added.

CAVE BACK FEES

A month later Curtis learned his name was being used as a surety that contractors would receive 15 to 20 per cent above the cost of their work by paying money to him. Curtis said he immediately withdrew as counsel for the group, and returned all fees received.

Curtis promised to furnish the state's attorney today with a list of all contractors from whom he had received fees, together with an explanation of the services rendered.

The state's attorney's investigation was started following a complaint by M. C. Travis, a real estate man. He said Malloy had taken him to Curtis' office and had tendered Curtis $500; and that he had received the promise of a government contract within 30 days. Travis said that later, when no government contract was forthcoming, he went to Curtis and received back $400. He showed the state's attorney his cancelled check for the $500, with Curtis' endorsement on it.

Carl Thorgerson, another contractor, told a similar experience but declared he would make no formal complaint. Angelo Zucco, architect, and Max Kovarsky, roofing contractor, told the state's attorney they wanted their money back, and that they intended to go to court for it, if necessary.

Other contractors also told Roche of being approached by Malloy. These men, however, said they paid no money to anyone.

Curtis said Malloy and George Williamson, described as a private detective, came to him last October with a proposition to pay fees for contracts Curtis might be able to obtain by "pull."

"I flatly refused their offer," Curtis said.

SENATORS ENTERING RACE AGAINST TIME

Advocates of River-harbor Bill and Naval Treaty Pushing for Vote

Washington. (P)—A race is on in the senate between advocates of the river and harbor bill and of the London naval limitations agreement to get their propositions before the chamber ahead of the rapidly approaching hour of adjournment.

No time has been set for adjournment but with the tariff bill due to be disposed of next week, senate leaders agree it will be hard to keep the weary legislators at their tasks much longer. There is still talk of an adjournment by June 10.

President Hoover has put the weight of his influence behind the movement to dispose of the treaty before the adjournment of this session. Chairman Borah of the foreign relations committee, is supporting this movement. He is ready to wind up the hearings on naval experts but there is no certainty that this can be brought about at once.

Senator Johnson, Republican, California, who has severely criticized the London naval treaty, has proposed that it go over until next session.

Meanwhile, as chairman of the commerce committee, Senator Johnson has called day and night sessions in an effort to iron out the many conflicts in the committee over the river and harbor bill. Friends of this legislation hope to get it to the senate ahead of the London treaty. It has already passed the house.

There is some talk of a special session to permit it to take up the treaty. This could be undertaken if the rivers and harbors legislation is first settled, thus permitting the house to wind up its work for the session.

FAMILY DOCTOR MADE MILLIONS OF FRIENDS

Fifteen years after his graduation, Dr. Caldwell became famous for a single prescription, which now, after forty years, is still making friends. Today Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the world's most popular laxative. Millions of people never think of using anything else when they're constipated, headachy, bilious, feverish or weak; when breath is bad, tongue coated, or they're suffering from nausea, gas, or lack of appetite or energy.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is made exactly according to the original formula, from herbs and other pure ingredients. It is pleasant-tasting; thorough in the most obstinate cases; gently effective for women and children. Above all, it represents a doctor's choice of what is safe for the bowels.

Television Radio Talkie Has Its World Premiere

Schenectady, N. Y.—(P)—The television radio talkie, youngest, and most precious child of electrical science, had its world premiere as a theatre attraction here today.

Audience witnessed the unprecedented spectacle of an orchestra in the theatre being led by the life size radio television image of its conductor, who in a laboratory a few miles distant wielded his baton as he received the music of his men by telephone. Merrill Trainor, laboratory assistant of Dr. E. T. W. Alexanderson, television pioneer, was seen and heard as he explained the way in which the pictures and the sounds reached the theatre. Other performers contributed to the demonstration by gesture, vocal music and instrumental selections.

The demonstration was arranged by Dr. Alexanderson, who is consulting engineer of the General Electric company and the Radio Corporation of America, to show the possibilities of television as a mode of entertainment. Dr. Alexanderson has been experimenting with television for several years. His first demonstration, in 1927, was a picture in a three-inch picture. An image 14 inches square was exhibited at the New York radio show last fall. The projection today was on a screen six feet square, with all the grey shades between white and black being produced, registering the shadows of the features and giving both depth and detail to the picture.

The performers went through their acts today in front of a television camera in the laboratory of Dr. Alexanderson at the General Electric plant. A transmitter in the laboratory sent out the light impulses, converted into radio signals, on a wave length of 140 meters. At the same time a microphone picked up the speech and song which were sent by wire to South Schenectady, from which point they were broadcast on a 92 meter wave length.

Within the theatre R. D. Kell, another assistant of Dr. Alexanderson in television research, acting as control operator, received the light impulses, reproduced them on an instrument called a teleopticon and then transferred them to a light valve, at which point the light was broken up to produce an image corresponding to the subject at the studio. Only head and the upper part of the body were shown. An other receiver picked up the radio sound waves which were amplified through a public address system.

CITY OFFICES TO CLOSE EARLIER FOR SEVERAL MONTHS

City offices will open one-half hour earlier and close one hour earlier in the afternoon from June 1 to Sept. 15, it was decided at the meeting if the common council Wednesday evening. Because of the discomfort of hot summer afternoons, and a certain decrease in business apparent every summer at that time of the day, it was felt that the city offices could logically be closed at 4 o'clock instead of 5 every afternoon during the summer months. The offices will open at 7:30, one half hour earlier than at the present time, close at 12 o'clock noon, and reopen again at 1 o'clock.

I had four other children and I worked so hard that I suffered a nervous breakdown. The doctor's tonic did not seem to help me and when a friend told me about Lydia E. WATER WORKS WOULD ERECT NEW BUILDING

Proposal Is Submitted to Common Council by Water Commission

A new building for the Appleton Water department, to provide proper facilities for the transaction of city business by this department, was proposed by Joseph J. Plank, chairman of the water commission at the meeting of the common council Wednesday evening.

Explaining that many citizens objected to climbing the city hall stairs to pay their water bills, and pointing out that there is no parking space near city hall to accommodate the 1,500 or more persons who visit the water department office each month, Mr. Plank stated that after several years of deliberation the water department had reached the conclusion that the construction of a building in the fair grounds would be a logical venture. The building will be financed by the water department. The matter is to be discussed thoroughly by the street and bridge committee in conference with the water department.

A resolution mapping out an extensive paving program for Appleton and advocating that property owners be relieved of all interest on paving bonds was presented by Alderman Phillip Vogt. The alderman explained that with 75 per cent of the city's annual street expense arising from the constant repairs on dirt streets, the only relief from this continual drain is paving. Inasmuch as most property owners object to the expense of paving, Mr. Vogt advised that they be relieved of the interest on paving bonds. At the present time taxpayers pay 5 per cent on the unpaid portion of their payments on paving bonds. The resolution was referred to the finance committee.

Two lots in the Fourth ward owned by the fire department are to be made into tennis courts until the fire department finds a use for the property.

TO BUY FIREWORKS
The council voted, with Alderman C. D. Thompson and Phillip Vogt voting nay, to buy $500 worth of fireworks for the American Legion Fourth of July celebration. The request of the Spanish American War veterans to decorate the streets of Appleton during their state convention here in June was granted.

The plans of the Wisconsin Telephone company for the installation of conduits along a certain route were approved, and the board of public works was instructed to supervise the work. The plans for the N. Union-st sewer were adopted.

The attorney was instructed to draw up an ordinance prohibiting the shooting of fireworks before the Fourth of July. There was some discussion of regulating the time of sale of fireworks, but after it was pointed out that they could be bought outside the city limits and exploded in the city before the Fourth, it was decided to confine the regulation merely to the explosion of fireworks.

An opinion of the city attorney showed that inasmuch as there is no conflict in duties between the offices of county sheriff and member of the water commission, there is no reason why John Lappen should not continue to serve in both capacities.

The time of meeting for the finance committee was changed from the Monday preceding the council meeting to the Friday preceding. The recommendation of the committee that $10,000 be borrowed to be used for city purposes was adopted.

NEED EXCAVATING PERMIT
It was decided that in the future all firms or persons planning improvements that necessitate the excavating of any part of a street be forced to secure a permit from the city.

A request from the town of Menasha that Appleton cooperate in the gravelling and cinderling of a street on the outskirts of the city was referred to the street and bridge committee. Petitions for the protests against the paving of Fourth and Circle-sts, and a petition for the paving of Brewster-st were likewise referred to the street committee. All

Common Council Rejects Plan To Widen Appleton-St.

PROJECT IS TURNED DOWN BY 7-5 VOTE

Installation of New Lighting System on Same Street Also Defeated

WHAT COUNCIL DID
Rejected proposal to widen N. Appleton-st. and install ornamental lighting system.
Hear water works department proposal to erect building at public service grounds.
Alderman Vogt suggests paving program and elimination of interest on paving bonds.
Vote $500 for Legion's July 4 celebration.
Order permits before making excavations in streets.
Borrow $10,000 more from banks to pay city bills.

The widening of Appleton-st. and the installation of an ornamental lighting system similar to the one on College-ave. were voted down by a 7 to 5 vote at the meeting of the common council Wednesday evening.

The widening of Appleton-st. proposed by Mayor John Goodland in his opening address, was disapproved by a 7 to 5 vote at an informal meeting of the council, with 10 aldermen present, Wednesday afternoon.

Aldermen voting against the Appleton-st. widening were W. H. Vandervort, R. F. McGowan, George Packard, George Richard, C. D. Thompson, Mike Steinhauser and Richard Groth. Those in favor of it were Oscar Baile, Philip Vogt, C. J. Wassenaar, Walter Groeninger and H. G. Kittner. After weeks of argument on the subject, a resolution asking that the widening of the street and the installation of the light system be approved and the cost charged to the property owners, was presented by Alderman Vogt merely as a means of bringing the question to a formal vote.

The Appleton-st. widening has been before the council for several months. Originally the majority of the property owners on the street signed the petition. Later it developed that many were laboring under the impression that the installation of the lighting system, seemingly the object of most of the signers, would prohibit the widening of the street at a future date. There also was a certain amount of misunderstanding as to the cost of the project and as to the amount of expense to be borne by the city and by the property owners.

HOLD PUBLIC HEARING
A public hearing was held, at which time the necessity for the widening, the increased traffic convenience it would provide and the benefits to merchants the widening would bring were pointed out by those in favor of the improvement, and the needless expense of widening, plans for relieving congestion on the street and the greater necessity for maintaining pedestrian traffic space were explained by those opposed. The petitioners probably are among the first National bank, who own the properties on Appleton-st. immediately north of College-ave, were the chief objectors to the widening, both maintaining that benefits of the proposed improvement would not compensate for the expense both to the city and the property owners and that the congestion of the travel space on the street could be relieved through a change in the parking system.

The widening of Appleton-st. brought before the council by a petition from property owners, was a part of the street widening system advocated by Mayor Goodland in his first speech to the council. The other streets proposed for widening by the mayor were Oneida-st., Washington-st. and Lawrence-st. Although Washington and Lawrence-sts. were never specifically discussed, the entire project was objected to by the majority of aldermen on the grounds that the city's present financial condition calls for a slackening of expenditures except in cases of emergency. Another objection was that these streets bear more pedestrian than automobile traffic and that unless the abutting buildings are torn down to provide for the widening and the present sidewalk space maintained, the purpose of widening would be defeated. The suggestion was made that the removal of the street car tracks on Oneida-st. would increase the travel space on Oneida-st. widening at the present time would be unnecessary.

TOWN OF CENTER MAN CHARGED WITH INCEST

MIKE SCORES ALL THOSE WHO IGNORE CITY

It all started with a mere resolution about sewers. Although the document was a reasonably sane one, it seemed to hold dynamite for Alderman Mike Steinhauser and the reading of it was like touching an oil-soaked torch to a pile of explosives.

From a discussion of the injustice of property holders outside the city limits connecting with the city sewer system, Alderman "Mike" Steinhauser declared against all the institutions, persons and groups that are "taking advantage of the city." With energy and enthusiasm he named the Fox River Bus company for rambling all over the city without a permit, the Zuelke building contractors for digging into the street and alley beyond the prescribed limits and the individuals who tore out the curb on Washington-st. without permission from the council. The more he talked the more he warmed to his subject and after half hour he took his seat, satisfied that he had aired all his pet notions.

But in his declamation, Mike wandered far afield from the original subject and when the Mayor asked for action on the original resolution, Alderman Steinhauser had to have the document re-read.

ROME PREPARES TO CANONIZE TWELVE LATE NEXT MONTH

Church Nobles Gather in Vatican Hall of Consistory for Final Verdict

Vatican City (AP)—An imposing array of cardinals, archbishops, bishops and mitred abbots gathered this morning in the hall of the consistory, to attend the third and last consistory summoned by Pope Pius XI to pass upon the qualifications of those proposed for canonization next month. More than 100 bishops were present.

The canonizations will raise to sainthood 12 "servants of God," as the candidates are called, two women and ten men. Of the latter, the eight Canadian martyrs, six French Jesuit priests and two lay brothers of the same famous order, will all be canonized together on Sunday, June 20, the feast of Sts. Peter and Paul. They will be the first saints from the north American continent to be so proclaimed by the Catholic church. South America already has its representation in the person of St. Rose of Lima, Peru.

The consent asked by the pope of the assembled cardinals and bishops today was in reality a merely formal affair, since the miracles adduced as proof of the twelve's sanctity have already been approved separately by the cardinals in the previous consistory. They previously were passed upon by the sacred congregation of rites, after minute researches and lengthy arguments.

At least two miracles wrought by the invocation of the 12 holy men and women in question have been duly demonstrated to the satisfaction of both bodies. In the case of the eight Canadian martyrs, two alleged miracles were the missionaries Jean de Brebeuf, Gabriel Lalemant, Isaac Jogues, Charles Garnier, Antoine Daniel, Noel Chabanel, Rene Goupil, and Jean de la Lande, all slain by the Indians about 1645 near Midland, Ont. The shrine at Port St. Marie is dedicated to them. Their canonization will be attended by an imposing pilgrimage from their adopted nation, headed by a number of Canadian bishops and prominent laymen.

The others proposed for the highest honor are: Blessed Lucia, Philippine, Italian founder of the teaching order of nuns that bears her name; Blessed Catherine Thomas, Spaniard, canoness of the Augustinian Friars; Blessed Theophilus da Corte, priest of the Order of Minor Friars, renowned for his exemplary life; and Blessed Robert Cardinal Bellarmine, distinguished Jesuit, theologian and writer, contemporary of Galileo and refuter of King James I. of England.

Today's gathering was attended by nearly all those Italian bishops whose sees are within 100 miles of Rome, together with a number from other points in the peninsula and beyond. At the conclusion of the exposition of each case for canonization, the pope indicated their approval upon an interrogation from the pope. The meeting began with the pontiff himself praying to the Holy Ghost for guidance and terminated with his imparting the apostolic benediction to all present, and through them to the faithful of their respective dioceses.

LIGHT COMMITTEE TO INSPECT AFTER DARK

At night all cats are grey, and one can't tell chalk from cheese, but the common council has decided there's one place of city business that needs the jet-black coat of night.

An inspection trip of the street lighting committee during the day. It was decided Wednesday night, it was felt, should have the benefit of the witching darkness of night, so the committee can determine by actual experience whether or not a street light is necessary at a certain point.

Because the committee's last trip was made in the brightness of a sunny afternoon, when lights are merely posts and lamps and not the dispensers of light, the report presented at the meeting of the council Wednesday night was referred back to the committee. The petitions will be investigated after dark before the report is again presented.

KIWANIS HEAR ABOUT WORK OF APPLETON C. OF C.

Chamber Officers Ask Support of Club in Coming Activities

Harvey Schilz and Kenneth H. Corbett, president and secretary of Appleton chamber of commerce speaking Wednesday noon at the Kiwanis club meeting at Conway hotel outlined the chamber's plans for the year and reviewed what has been accomplished in recent years. They pledged themselves to the betterment of Appleton and asked wholehearted support of the club in the chamber and its activity.

The road, publicity and rural programs of the chamber were outlined by Mr. Corbett, who stated the former project has been divided into three parts. One is the improvement of highways in the town of Harrison, Calumet-co all of which lie adjacent to Appleton.

Conferences have been held with town residents, Mr. Corbett said, with state highway officials and with Calumet-co authorities to bring action either to have a new road designated the main state and federal highway and have it paved or have the present highway federal trunk 10 and state trunk 114, paved.

INCLUDES HIGHWAY 125
Paving of highway 125 from Appleton to Neenah is another of the chamber's road projects. The road now is used by persons seeking a direct route to Oshkosh and Milwaukee and not wishing to go through Neenah and Menasha. Many men working at the new Lakeview mill of Kimberly-Clark corporation also are using the road, it was said.

The third project is paving of highway 47 from the Outagamie county line to Bonduel. Plans for this project now are being considered by the Green Bay district office of the state highway commission.

HAS WIDE SUPPORT
In asking cooperation of the Kiwanis club in chamber of commerce work, Mr. Corbett quoted from C. W. Kimball, manager of extension department of Kiwanis International. The question follows:

"The Kiwanis club International has always maintained the policy of supporting the chamber of commerce in their various activities and never has advocated the policy of superseding them in any way. "The local club's autonomy cannot be violated but we advocate that every Kiwanian shall be a member of the local chamber of commerce, and in the organization of our clubs we maintain that no Kiwanian club shall supersede any existing organization rather still lend a hand in assisting them in their program. The chamber of commerce when properly functioning is the community's greatest civic organization and we believe that clubs such as Kiwanis have a distinct function, but shall in no way usurp the rightful place of the chamber. If a chamber is not properly functioning we believe it is Kiwanis duty endeavor to bring about the required action and lend every support."

The address was closed with statement of the board of trustees of Kiwanis International that one of its achievements is "To develop aggressively towards chambers of commerce and other civic organizations a cooperative spirit and to encourage coordination of activities."

TELEVISION IN COLORS SOUGHT IN EXPERIMENTS

Hope That Laboratory Tests Will Prove Successful in Two Months

BY C. E. BUTTERFIELD
(Associated Press Radio Editor)
Boston—(AP)—Television transmission in colors within two months is the hope of engineers tackling the problem of radio sight in laboratories here.

So successful do they feel they have been in their experimentation that the engineers said they would be able to reproduce colored pictures eight inches square. Included in their development work has been the design of a receiver housed in a console no larger than the ordinary sound set.

If the attempt at color transmission succeeds, it will mark a climax in three years of television work by the Short Wave and Television Laboratories, which are operating WIXAV on 137 meters, 2180 kilocycles. The transmitter, designed and built for television work by Holis S. Baird, chief engineer, has a power of 500 watts.

As one of its accomplishments
the laboratory points to its development of horizontal transmission against the former method of vertical transmission. The engineers explained that with vertical transmission a straight line always appears as a curved line with resultant distortion in the received picture. In horizontal transmission a straight line remains a straight line when it is received.

The receiver used is rather novel in that the scanning disk is really not a disk. It consists of a band of metal having a series of holes and is fastened around a drum-like frame which revolves in front of the neon lamp. The band is removable, making it possible to change it to receive either a 48-line or a 60-line picture.

The receiver has a framing device which keeps the picture in the correct position for viewing and which somewhat simplifies synchronization. The framing is controlled by a knob at the front of the receiver.
The viewing lens is located just above the tuning and framing controls on a level with the operators' eyes.

This outfit, the engineers explained, was for television only and would not reproduce sound, for which a separate set would be required where sound and sight were being received together from the same studio.

Although the picture at present is only four inches square, a process has been developed whereby it can be enlarged to from eight to 12 inches square. Under this method, the engineers said, the picture would be seen on a ground glass rather than through a magnifying lens. They also said that it would be possible for a room full of persons to see the picture at the same time.

In cooperation with WEEI, Boston, WIXAV began sending synchronized voice and vision of the Big Brother club on February 5.
Short waves were used for the television signals and the sound went out on WEEI's regular wavelength.

PAJAMAS BECOME MORE BEAUTIFUL

Black Silk, With Birds in Natural Colors. Latest Patterns

BY AILEEN LAMONT

New York—If pajamas get any wider or more beautiful, they are going to prance right out of the boundary and into the street. Black silk, splashed with birds of paradise in their natural colors, surrounded by their native scenery also in its natural colors. Such things were not meant to blush unseen.

If you want to be very swank indeed, the new plain white suede pump is for you. Very tailored, and very simple, they aren't so plain as you might think, because they have toes and heels of contrasting leather.
The toes are perforated in a tailored pattern, which is to save in straight lines. And is the whole effect chic?

Flat and flat crepe are combined in many a striking ensemble for late spring. Take, for example, a flat crepe afternoon gown in architect blue; match it in felt with a hat and handbag, or let these accessories be in a trifle deeper shade, and you build a remarkably nice outfit for either street or tea. If you can distinguish between architect blue and what used to be called royal blue, you deserve a pair of blue slippers as a prize. Royalty may conceivably be as blue as this, but not architects.

What Scientists Are Learning

SCIENTISTS SCORN CHANCE FOR PROFIT

Give Away Discovery Insuring Public Against Eating Poison Fruit

Corvallis, Ore.—(AP)—To insure the public against eating fruit tainted with spray poisons, a scientific discovery said to be worth a small fortune has been given without profit by two research specialists of the Oregon State college agricultural experiment station.

The scientists are Henry Hartman and H. R. Robinson. Their unusual gift is a present to the fruit growing industry of a process for removing spray poisons from ripe fruit.

The formula is protected against private exploitation by a public service patent.
For many years fruit containing residue from heavy arsenate of lead spraying was sold uncleaned, as the normal amount of poison remaining in the skin was not considered dangerous.

Recently the federal government ordered that all fruit be cleaned thoroughly and that none showing a trace of spray be exported.
Robinson and Hartman perfected a wash that costs about one-half cent per bushel to clean fruit. Their process has become standard in the fruit growing districts of the west and is reported spreading to the midwest and the east.

RURAL EARS BETTER, TESTS NOW INDICATE

Boston—(AP)—Hearing of rural and small town children seems to be better than that of city youngsters.

The examinations which give the country youth this lead were made in three small Maine communities with an audiometer, a comparatively new scientific instrument.

It was purchased by the Speech Reading club of Portland, and loaned to places outside the city on request.

The results are reported to Mrs.
James F. Norris, chairman of the committee on children of the American Federation of Organizations for the Hard of Hearing.

PAIN

How to treat
Headaches
Neuralgia Neuritis or check a Cold

WHY ARE some women so patient with pain? Shopping with a head that throbs. Working when they ache all over. Sometimes it's hours before they take Bayer Aspirin and get relief! Most men take these tablets the moment some ache or pain threatens their comfort. And so should you.
Genuine Aspirin is perfectly harmless; cannot depress the heart.
The tablets stamped Bayer are always genuine Aspirin; always the same, always safe. It isn't sensible to suffer with a headache, a cold, neuralgic pains, or anything else that these tablets relieve almost as soon as swallowed. Buy by the bottle and save money. Any drugstore has the 100-tablet size.

Australian Tribes Kill By Power Of Suggestion

Cambridge, Mass.—(AP)—The secret of "black magic" which actually kills native men and women in Australia has been found by W.
Lloyd Warner of Peabody museum
Harvard university.

The natives are blacks, pure stone-age men and women, living
Mr. Warner says, as our ancestors probably did 10,000 to 20,000 years ago. Their home is the Crocodile islands and nearby mainland, where Mr. Warner spent most of the last three years alone among them, as a Rockefeller Foundation research fellow in anthropology.

He whose wife is unfaithful may ask the Shaman to kill her with black magic. A time when she is absent from camp is chosen. Upon return she is informed her soul has been stolen.

Actually nothing has happened,
but she and everything else believe the following events took place in her absence. The Shaman met her, thrust a sharp stick into her heart from beneath, drank of the blood, and with it her soul.

"What have I done?" he asked.
"You have stolen my soul."

Then he twisted her tongue and she no longer remembered anything. Hearing camp he magically cut her body in two pieces several times.

All this is imagined—but earnestly believed.
"But," said Mr. Warner, "I saw a woman die with absolutely nothing
the matter so far as I could determine. When she returned everyone believed her dead—her soul stolen. She believed it too."

"The wailing of the other women was dreadful. She did not eat and probably did not sleep. Her breathing grew rapid. As the tide went out, she became weak and stronger as it came in. She died on the third day as the tide went out."

Of course she was suggestible.
I do not say that every person can be killed. But certainly all would become very ill."

WAR CHARIOTS IN NEAR EAST Baltimore—(AP)—Introduction of chariot warfare into the near east is credited by Dr. William T. Albright, of Johns Hopkins to a period contemporaneous with the patri-arches of the bible. The charioteers seem to have been Indo-Europeans who with this then new weapon, established a military aristocracy.

MR. ROBERTS APPROVED
The senate without a roll call and without opposition confirmed the nomination of Owen J. Roberts for justice of the supreme court of the United States. It must be that Senator Blaine was out of the chamber when the vote was taken. We are to assume in view of the unanimity that Mr. Roberts is all right. Indeed, without an objection of any sort, from any source, he may be regarded almost as a miracle. It hardly seems possible that he escaped in the open senate the criticism or opposition of some virtuous soul. Seldom is the senate unanimous on anything, and less seldom Republicans of all factions, degrees and faith.
Of course, the truth is that Mr. Roberts was an admirable selection. Nothing was brought out concerning his life and record except what reflects credit upon him and emphasizes both the fitness and appropriateness of the nomination. A good deal is to be said for going outside the bench to fill this vacancy. So far as could be ascertained he had never done anything but represent his clients honestly and ably. He may have had his views about Orphan Annie or the proper length of women's skirts, but if so he was discreet enough to keep them to himself.
Mr. Roberts is neither a radical nor an ultra-conservative; neither a reactionary nor a disturber. He is one of those gifted men in public life who can see two sides to a question and who believes in even scales of justice. He is not the partisan of any cause or reform, but evidently has sound views about policies that are essential to the nation's welfare. We expect to see him interpret the constitution and the laws in the light of a liberal and advancing philosophy.

CURBING A NEW TRUST
The husky young radio industry seems to be in the way of becoming a trust. This, at least, is the view of the United States department of justice, which has filed suit charging conspiracy in restraint of trade and asking that 10 leading manufacturers be enjoined from continuing monopolization of interstate commerce. Such action was probably destined to come sooner or later, and as Owen D. Young observes, it might as well come now as any time. The captains of the radio industry owe it to the public and to the industry itself not to turn it into a monopoly above the law. The government and courts owe it to everybody to tell the captains just how far they may go.
The accusations in this case seem to refer merely to the manufacturing and distributing sides of the business. The importance of these may be seen from census reports showing 7,000,000 electrically operated radio sets in this country, in addition to the many million sets operated on batteries; also nearly 20,000,000 homes wired for electricity. But the greatest power of this big industry is the publicity power it controls. Sooner or later there will have to be some definite public understanding about that.

GANGING ON GANGSTERS
It looks at last as if the world is to be made unsafe for gangsters. There is a conspicuous example in the tribulations of the Capone family. "Scarface Al" is arrested in his Florida mansion and lodged in jail about as fast as he can get habes corpus writs to let him out. One of his brothers recently was jailed on a charge of having no visible means of support. Another brother is subjected to the indignity of having a $100,000 carload of liquor seized in Chicago.
Word has gone out that these overlords of the underworld and their kind are to be harassed mercilessly. Almost any pretext will do. Legal technicalities and political favor no longer protect them.

fect them. Pliant officers are elbowed aside by the strong arm of the law. The president himself is said to be largely responsible for this surprising change in the treatment of our gangland heroes. In any event, it is a gratifying change of policy. Too long the human scum of American cities has laughed at law and decency and fattened on crime. The way to stop that sort of thing is to apply the law relentlessly, beginning with the chief malefactors who have been so long immune.

PENNSYLVANIA REDEEMS ITSELF
Secretary of Labor James J. Davis has won the Republican nomination for United States senator in Pennsylvania by the enormous plurality of somewhere around 245,000. Senator Jos. R. Grundy, appointed in a defiant spirit by Gov. John S. Fisher to fill the vacancy of the senate's refusal to seat Vare, has suffered a humiliating defeat. Incidentally, Pennsylvania wins back some of its self-respect and some of national respect by its repudiation of a political combination that frankly represents government of, by and for the special interests.
Mr. Grundy is the spokesman of the great tariff beneficiaries of his state who make up an industrial plutocracy of the first magnitude. He is the living exponent of all that is had in the pending tariff bill and that is indefensible in tariff making at any time. He was appointed to the senate frankly as a representative of the Pennsylvania Manufacturers association and not of the people. By this act Gov. Fisher rendered poor service both to the protected interests and to the appointee. He overdid the surrender.
Pennsylvania is now in line for a senator of a different type than one is accustomed to see from that state. Notwithstanding the fact that he was supported by the Vare element Davis is not to be regarded as a machine nomination. It was not that the Vare crowd loved Davis more but they loved Grundy less. Mr. Davis will have a free hand to work out his career in the senate. His record there will be watched with particular interest because of his labor affiliations and the position he occupies with the federal administration. Undoubtedly he was the choice of President Hoover, a fact which did not hurt his candidacy although Mr. Hoover took no part in the contest. Indirectly, therefore, it is to be regarded as an administration victory, but the most agreeable thing about the result is the rebuke administered to privilege in one of its chief strongholds.

NOT ALL MERGER
Apparently industry isn't all going to consolidate, any more than trade is, in spite of the recent trend that way. James Farrell, president of the United States Steel corporation, declared the other day that as far as mergers are concerned, "the bloom is off the rose." "To merge or not to merge, that is the question," he mused. "Some think unless we merge, we'll be submerged. The best thing we can do is to emerge." Meaning, perhaps, to emerge from the notion that a merger is the remedy for all industrial ills, the answer to every economic problem. "Today everything runs big," he said. "But let me tell you, we must give some attention to the small manufacturer."
Mr. Farrell is not the only big business man who is inclined to think that big business will find it advisable to let little business live, and even to do some decentralizing itself. "The next ten years," suggests another observer, "may belong to the business man who grew up in his market, to the manufacturer who serves a special demand well, and to the workman who has been on the job so long that he needs no high-priced overhead to tell him what to do."

Today's Anniversary

WAGNER'S BIRTH
On May 22, 1813, Wilhelm Richard Wagner, the originator of the music drama, and one of the greatest of musical geniuses, was born in Leipzig.
Influenced as a boy by his readings in Shakespeare, Wagner, at the age of 14, wrote a four-act tragedy. Later, falling under the spell of the music of Weber and Beethoven, he decided he would learn music so that he could compose a piece for his tragedy.
In 1833, at the age of 20, he became a professional musician, accepting the post of chorus master at Wurzburg. He diligently occupied himself writing librettos, but few of them sold. Impoverished as he was, he married Minna Planer, an actress. When they went to England soon after their marriage Wagner got inspiration for his "Flying Dutchman" in the tempestuous channel crossing. But this, and his subsequent Tannhauser, were not cordially received.
Wagner ultimately became friends with Liszt who helped him in times of need, and encouraged him to compose. Later Wagner took for his second wife his friend's daughter, Cosima Liszt, who died only recently. Wagner for himself lived to see his works finally acclaimed.

COME, NOW, LET'S HAVE NO NONSENSE ABOUT VACCINATION.

I have answered many queries about vaccination here, and now and again I have given my opinion of the inconsistency of compulsory vaccination. The other day some one sent me one of those miserable tracts or pamphlets used by certain interests of questionable character to propagate anti-vaccination ideas, and in it one of my comments on compulsory vaccination was accurately quoted, along with the opinions or sayings of a precious crew of charlatans and opportunists of all sorts. At first blush I wished I had reworded my opinion a little differently, but when I tried it over I found I had said precisely what I meant and I meant what I said.
But I want to say here that in my opinion anybody who seeks to avoid or escape being vaccinated against smallpox is foolhardy. It is true that any scratch, abrasion, pin prick or trifling burn of the skin may open the way for serious or fatal septicemia, blood poisoning. The vaccination wound is no exception. Now and then some one will suffer from such an accident, unless the vaccination wound is intelligently cared for. But the risk of any ill effect from the vaccination wound is insignificant compared with the risk one must assume if one goes unvaccinated, that no intelligent person will permit it to deter him from having this protection. That is my opinion of vaccination, and although I believe compulsory vaccination is not justifiable except for infants or others not capable of using ordinary judgment. If vaccination confers the protection I believe it does, I am surely in no danger from my friend or associate who doesn't believe in vaccination, so why should I insist that he be vaccinated if he doesn't care to protect himself that way?
Some years ago there were several fatal cases of tetanus (lockjaw) from infection of the vaccination wound: the investigation proved that some virus had carried the tetanus bacilli. That was most unfortunate, but it scarcely deters me from vaccinating my own loved ones.
These anti-vaccinationists are fond of one vicious argument that may have some weight in the imagination of uneducated people but is absurd when you know anything about the disease in question. They imply that syphilis is conveyed in vaccine virus. That assumption requires another, namely, that there is such a condition or disease as bovine syphilis—syphilis in the cow or calf. A notorious charlatan found it very helpful to his line of humbug to conjure up some such idea a decade or more ago; he pretended to detect a slight taint of syphilis in nearly every victim of his humbug diagnosis, and heged by suggesting that it was this vague, intangible "bovine syphilis." That's the kind of syphilis the anti-vaccinationists like to have gullible folk imagine one can get through vaccine virus.
Nobody knows how long the immunity conferred by vaccination lasts. I believe one vaccination in early life pretty well protects me for life, though I should certainly have another try at it if an outbreak of smallpox happened in my environment.
Only 36,000 persons had smallpox in the United States in 1923, although there were 200,000 feeble-minded persons in the country that year. Compulsory vaccination is a great thing for children and imbeciles.

The Tynmites
By Hal Cochran

THE people at the boat house all were at the Tynies' beck and call. One fellow in a yachting suit stepped out and promptly said, "Now lads, just make yourselves at home and 'round the clubhouse room. Whatever you desire to do, don't ask. Just go ahead."
"At noon time we will have a meal and I just want you all to feel that you are very welcome. You can join right in and eat. And, also, if you want to row, out on the water you can go. But, please don't stand in the boat. That's very indiscreet."
Then Scouty said, "You're very kind and I am sure that we will find a lot to do while we are here. I love to row a boat. We'd like to use the biggest one, because I think 'twill be more fun. The bigger boat is safer. If they tip, they're sure to float."
This made the man laugh rather loud and then he watched the Tynies crowd go boating on the little stream. The Travel Man went, too. He didn't want the lads to fall into the stream. "Wouldn't seek them all. They rowed and then ate dinner. Then they left, when they were through."
A horse and buggy then went by and all the bunch heard Clowny cry, "Hey! Mister, can we have a ride?" The man yelled back, "Hop in!" And then it really was a fight the way the whole bunch packed in tight. They looked so very funny that it made the driver grin.
The next thing that the Tynies knew the man said, "I'm inviting you to stop and see my wonderful farm—the best that can be found." They reached the farm and all hoped out. The next thing Scouty did was shout, "Oh, look! Fine flowers and vegetables are growing all around."
(The Tynmites leave Denmark in the next story.)

A BYSTANDER IN WASHINGTON

BY HERBERT PLUMMER
Washington — All that Tommy McMillan says of himself in his official biography in the Congressional Directory is that he is a democrat, lives in Charleston, S. C., and has been elected to four congresses.
Yet this robust, good-natured southerner got into public life in perhaps the strangest way of any man on the hill. "From Baseball Diamond to the halls of Congress"—if he ever were to write a story of his life, such a title would be most fitting.
For it was McMillan's ability to hit the ball and run bases that focused the attention of the first congressional district of South Carolina on him. And it was the baseball fans who are responsible for him being in Washington.
Old-timers in the Sally (South Atlantic) league remember the days when Tommy McMillan was catcher for Charleston. And there are many who still remember when he was that team's premier hitter and base runner.
LUCK
It was a rare piece of luck that caused McMillan to settle down in the first congressional district of his state—the district that was to make him a representative in congress years later.
He was a student at the University of South Carolina. During the vacation period he was playing baseball for Charlotte in the South Atlantic league. In 1913, the Charlotte club ordered him to report before the end of the college year. McMillan refused.
It was that same year that Charleston was sorely in need of a man who could add punch to the team and who, at the same time, could be bought with the least possible money. The manager of the Charleston club enlisted the aid of a local sports writer to help him find such a man.
The sports writer remembered the lad at the university who was a hold-out. Negotiations were begun with the Charlotte club, with the result that McMillan was sold to Charleston for $50.
POPULAR
McMillan played with Charleston until he had won a tremendous personal popularity with baseball fans. Then pressure of private affairs forced him to quit. He says now that he never hoped to be a professional, but played the game because he couldn't resist the lure of the diamond.
Off the baseball field, Tommy McMillan was not forgotten. Baseball fans of the first district got behind him for the state legislature, and elected him. The last year in that body he served as speaker.
In 1926, the baseball fans put forward his name for congress. They elected him, and have returned him since.

RADIO PROGRAM CENSORSHIP HAS STAGE ONCE MORE

Allegations of Medical 'Quackery' Lodged Against Station

BY ROBERT MACK
Copyright, 1930, By Cons. Press.
Washington.—(CPA)—The delicate question of program censorship has been brought to a head in a case in which a radio station is charged with fraudulently espousing goat-gland operations as a means of physical rejuvenation.

Against station KFKB, at Milford, Kas., recently awarded a prize by a radio publication as the "most popular station in the world," these allegations of medical "quackery" have been lodged by the American Medical Association. The commission has hailed the station owners to Washington to show cause why it should not revoke the station's broadcasting license for failure to serve the public interest. The station operates with 5,000 watts power on the 1050 kilocycle channel during daylight hours only.

The commission under the radio law, is specifically prohibited from censoring programs. But it can take program merit into consideration when passing on the application of any station for renewal of its license to operate. That is what it is doing in this case.

Specifically, the allegations against the station are that Dr. John R. Brinkley, of Milford, who also has a hospital, unethically and improperly solicits medical practice, and prescribes, by number, medicines for various ailments over this station on three regular schedules each day. He also is charged with using "indecent and obscene language" and with making "false statements" about medicine and surgery.

SUBSTITUTE PAMPHLETS
Over the objections of counsel for station KFKB, pamphlets and other literature bearing Dr. Brinkley's signature were introduced in the record. Some of these related largely to gland operations, although station witnesses testified that the doctor had never mentioned goat gland operations and rejuvenation over the radio. They did testify, however, that about 25 or 30 goats were taken to the station each week.

Through Dr. Hugh H. Young, famous surgeon of Johns Hopkins university in Baltimore, the commission was told of the objections of the medical profession to the use of radio in blanket prescribing of medicines, and in solicitation. Dr. Young declared the methods used by Dr. Brinkley, in his opinion, "are of the greatest possible danger to public health. To prescribe medicines to patients over the radio without diagnosing a case, he declared, was "dangerous."

Dr. Young read from a pamphlet

COLLEGE AWARDS PINS TO NINE DEBATORS

Nine Lawrence college debaters received the "L" pins given for outstanding forensic work in intercollegiate competition, according to the announcement of Coach A. L. Francis, head of the department of speech.

William Morton, Marinette. Dan Hopkinson, Milwaukee. and Erwin Marquardt, Wausau received the distinctive gold "L" awarded for three years of varsity debate. It is a gold shield with an inset diamond. The gold award, for two years competition, went to Edwin West, Marinette, and Robert Beggs, Pensacola, Florida.

The first year honor, a silver pin, was awarded to Irma Malzow, Beaver Dam, Madelyn Johnson, Port Edwards; Stanley Green, Sturgeon Bay, and Marcus Plant, Appleton.

prepared by Dr. Brinkley, carrying on its cover a legend that the latter was associated with the broadcasting station. On examination he said the pamphlet "pretends to be a description of a surgical operation" involving the transplanting of gland tissue from other animals to humans to "restore enfeebled constitutions."

"This never has been accomplished in surgery and is ridiculous," he declared.

George Strong, chief counsel for the station, objected vigorously to the inclusion of such evidence, on the ground that it transgressed the censorship law. The commission, however, heard the testimony, but reserved ruling as to its admissibility.

Summer means vacation, and this, in turn, means leisure. Bags and men's suitcases are generally framed with steel, but wood is used to frame women's cases because it is lighter. In addition, steel are suitcase when depend on fiber or pastboard of such rigidity and structural strength as they have. At a fair price they will give fair value, but they are not to be confused with well-framed cases.

In addition to the framework, a type of hand luggage has a foundation in the leather, giving the backing of flexible lines as a heavy canvas in the better products, and felt in the inferior ones. The more hand suitcases require a stiffer foundation, which is wood or felt in the best grades, and cardboard in the poorer ones. Rip on the body of the case. The sound will tell you if it is wood or felt.

This Woman In 4 Weeks Lost 19 Pounds of Fat

Here's a letter written October 21, 1929, by Mrs. Phil Berenger of Lewistown, Montana, that ought to be read by every overweight woman in America.

I first saw your advertisement in all the morning papers and decided to try Kruschen salts.

I started taking them every morning as directed as I was very much overweight and wanted to reduce. I had been going on a diet but would get so hungry that my diet would not last long so I decided to give "Kruschen" salts a fair trial.

The day I started to take them I weighed 254 lbs. and at present I weigh 135 lbs. and I feel so much better in every way, besides looking much better. Kruschen Salts had a decided effect upon the quantity of food I took and stimulated my desire to greater activity. I have recommended Kruschen Salts to many of my friends, in fact, have a number of them taking Kruschen's Salts.

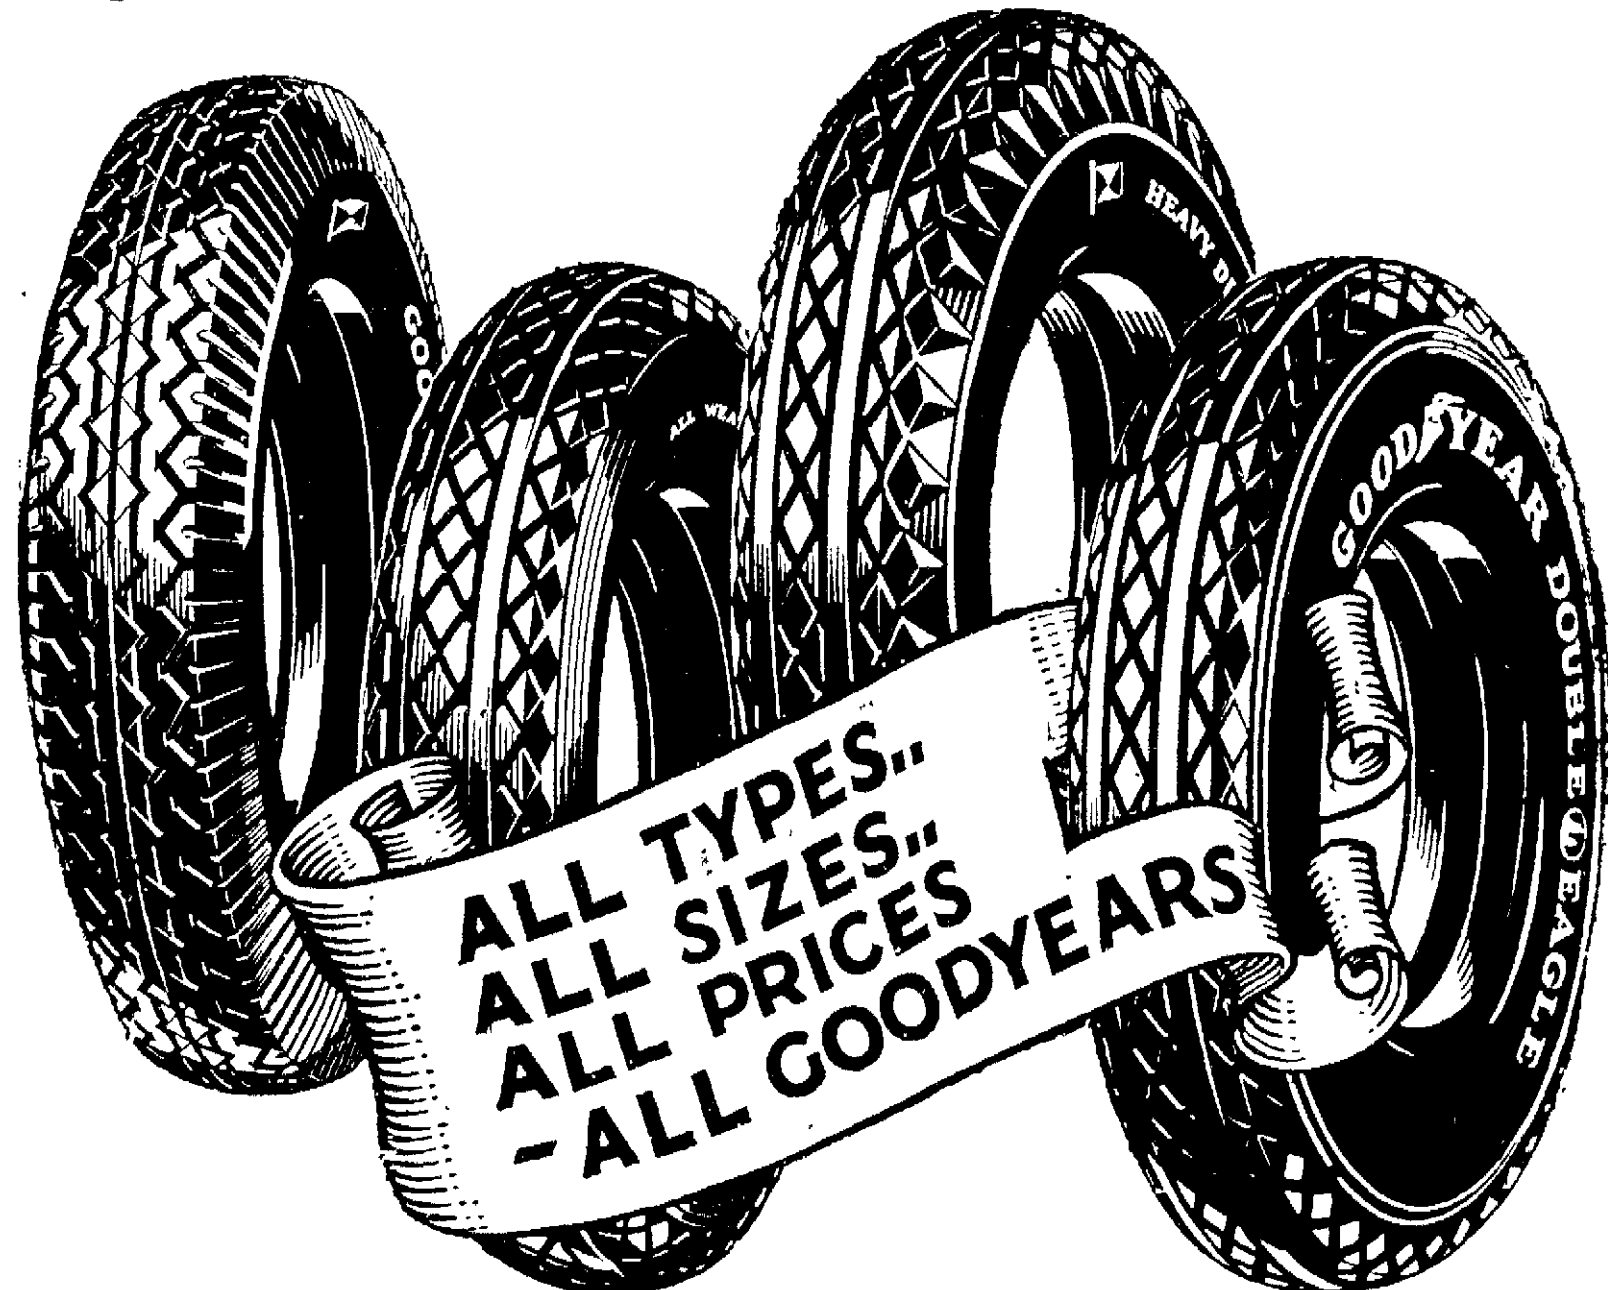

May all large, people, both men and women, who want to reduce in an easy way, give Kruschen Salts a fair trial. I am sure it will convince them.

A bottle of Kruschen Salts that lasts four weeks costs but 55c at 10c per box. 10 boxes for $5.00. Write Post Co., 2 stores or any weight 2 lbs. And I'm sure it will convince them.

The Story of Sue

by MARGERY HALE

© 1929 BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

WE didn't steal the violin from Clifford," Sue said as she still stared at the inscription which she and Sarah had found in the inner case of the strange musician's instrument. "There's a plot somewhere... and Clifford had to come across with his own fiddle."

"Cliff might have known about the ring episode, too," Sarah took up the strain. "I never did trust him and Harry hasn't either, you know. Shall we tell Harry? He'll be furious to think Corrinne dates with him then, and he'll buy a green-house and a chocolate shop to make atonement to you both. I don't know... maybe it won't be half bad for you to marry the rounded boy-friend."

"But I'm not Corrinne is," She told the story quickly. "I'm as free as air and about as interesting. Let's go get the sandwiches, I'm so tired of scandal and excitement and..."

"So am I. You want a little house under a big tree with a cookie jar and a flagged walk and hollyhocks. Every girl does, but most of us wouldn't admit it if we had to have gold teeth for keeping still. We're so afraid that somebody will think we are preserving a pound of sentiment that we pretend life is a cocktail mixture, and the more ingredients the merrier."

The sandwich shop was almost deserted, but across the counter a tall, broad-shouldered young man with a tanned, strong face and clear brown eyes glanced up from the evening paper.

His eyes met Sarah's and he hesitated a second, then spoke. "I thought I was safe," he said, laughing. "I didn't know you used the same coffee shop."

"It's all right, Dr. Burton," Sarah answered, an impish gleam in her eyes. "I don't blame you for not staying when I was so horrid. But now that you know I wouldn't even have a party without you, you ought to forgive me."

For answer he picked up his cup and plate and came around the counter, and he and Sarah were talking lightly and gaily in a minute, but Sue sat and watched the people on the street, and wondered about life, exactly as Cleopatra probably did when she watched the purple Nile, and Dido, when Aeneas's sail was growing spectre-thin against the skyline.

But when she got home and saw Ted sitting at the radio, in the living room, a sports paper in his hand, his reliable old pipe in his mouth, a sudden fear seized her. If Ted loved Sarah, why didn't he say so? For Sarah was proud, and there are other men, and youth was short.

On a strange and sudden impulse she dropped into a chair in the living room, reached up and switched off the lights so only the reading lamp by her brother's chair made a pool of golden glamour in the room.

Ted looked up and smiled. She decided to plunge into her subject. "Ted, I'm not marrying Harry... I never wanted to and I had sense enough at last to break away. And it's a good thing because Corrinne happens to have a desire in that direction and he returns it."

"The... devil!" He let his magazine fall to the floor. "Corrinne and Harry? Sure you aren't just being magnanimous?"

"I'm so relieved I would do a jig if the radio found a dancing tune," she said. "But I'm worried about things. Ted, do you think, when a girl and a man are in love, and she has money and he hasn't, it ought to interfere?"

DRY SHOWDOWN MAY NOT BE REACHED IN NEW JERSEY FIGHT

Issue Already Seems Mired in Bogs of Old Patronage Battle

BY LEMUEL F. PARTON
Copyright, 1930, by Cons. Press
Newark, N. J.—Shouters for and against prohibition may not get the clean-cut showdown they have been hoping for in New Jersey's three-cornered primary fight on June 17 for the Republican nomination for the United States senatorship. The race is between Dwight V. Morrow and former senator Joseph S. Frelinghuysen, both wet, and Representative Franklin Fort, a dry.

While Ambassador Morrow's wet speech opening his campaign hit the country at large as a bold and incisive challenge to a trial of strength on the wet and dry issue, and may possibly affect primaries elsewhere, there are signs that it is already being mired in the bogs of the New Jersey patronage fight—a perennial encounter maintained by professional New Jersey politicians—and quite as apt to decide political fortunes as any intelligent declaration of policy.

When Mr. Morrow opened his campaign he had never met the governor of the state and scarcely any of the leading politicians. His manager is Douglas G. Thomson, mayor of Englewood, Mr. Morrow's home.

He is a banker, somewhat of Mr. Morrow's type, and also aloof from politics in its roughest and noisiest aspects. Associated with him is Daniel E. Pomerooy, Republican national committeeman, experienced in public life but not in the close-in milling of precinct organization.

WOMEN BACK MORROW
In the background of the Morrow candidacy are women's organizations and high-minded sections of the New Jersey citizenry to whom Mr. Morrow's achievements in Mexico, Paris and London have a strong appeal. On this higher plane, Mr. Morrow unquestionably is strong. If he loses, it will be in the view of astute observers of Jersey politics, because of his lack of command of the complicated minutiae of state politics.

David Baird, of Camden, aspiring to Republican state leadership, and leading the state organization in the support of Mr. Morrow, is the son of a former southern New Jersey boss, who like him served an unexpired term in the United States senate. The elder Baird and Joseph S. Frelinghuysen developed an enduring grudge against each other in Washington and the son, one of the leading industrialists of Camden, is now driving hard for Mr. Morrow's nomination.

Jesse Salmon, skilled and experienced politician of Essex, great industrial center where Newark is located, also state Republican leadership, but is throwing his support to Frelinghuysen. While the federal patronage at stake in a senatorial election is negligible, the patronage at the disposal of the state organization is a glittering prize.

SEE DEMOCRATIC AID

It has been whispered that the Democratic organization of Jersey City, in Hudson, where the state Republican organization has been gunning for Mayor Frank Hague, would present Frelinghuysen with 60,000 votes in the June primary. Monday's decision of the court of errors and appeals, sustaining Hague against the state legislature in its inquiry into the sources of his fortune, has rehabilitated Hague politically. This was followed by a public denunciation by Frelinghuysen of the "ripper" bills involved in the move against Hague, which declaration was regarded as lending color to the talk of an entente between the Frelinghuysen and Hague organizations. However, it is expected that the new primary law, which goes into effect July 1, will prevent the transfer of any large block of democratic votes to Frelinghuysen.

The fact that both Frelinghuysen and Morrow are multi-millionaires helped to start this campaign with a rush. Eager volunteers came swarming into both camps, but what they learned was disheartening. Neither Morrow nor Frelinghuysen is going to buy his way through.

This writer asked Representative Fort, dry candidate, whether he was going to stand on his "home brew" speech of Jan. 31. Addressing congress, Mr. Fort had admitted that the legality of home brewing was open to question.

"That speech was widely misinterpreted and misunderstood," he said. "What I actually said was, 'there is a possibility that the law needs clarification, and nobody has ever been convicted for home brewing, without transportation, in a federal case.' I first took this stand about three years ago, before a meeting of the W. C. T. U. and other dry organizations in my home district. I said then and later repeated in my speech in congress that prohibition was not a moral issue; that it must be shifted to social and economic grounds before it can be understood or intelligently discussed; that the fanatical fringe of prohibition enforcement was doing it incalculable harm. I was shooting at the fanatics of both sides. I intend to take exactly the same stand in this campaign."

SCORES POLICE FOR NABbing SPEEDERS AT 40 MILES HOUR

Chicago—(P)—Police officers who arrest motorists driving at 35 or 40 miles an hour on Chicago boulevards have been rebuked by Judge Freeman L. Fairbank of the speeders' court.

"I will not punish any motorist solely because he has driven 35, or 40, or 45 miles an hour," Judge Fairbank said yesterday. "But regardless of any speed formula, I gently discussed; that the fanatical fringe of prohibition enforcement was doing it incalculable harm. I was shooting at the fanatics of both sides. I intend to take exactly the same stand in this campaign."

will punish the reckless driver, the drunken driver, the ignorant driver, or any driver endangering the lives of pedestrians, other motorists or himself.

"There is no legal fixed speed limit. The law merely says that cars shall be driven at a reasonable speed. At some hours and on some streets 25 miles an hour may be unreasonable fast. At other times and places a speed of 45 miles an hour or even more—considering the mechanical perfection of modern cars—may be entirely reasonable."

The police announced they would continue making arrests as heretofore, despite Judge Fairbank's warning that motorists arrested merely for going fast would be discharged.

NEW NATIONALIST RAID THWARTED AT SALT DEPOT

Bombay, India—(P)—One hundred nationalist volunteers attempted a raid this morning on the Wadala salt depot but were thwarted by police.

A strong force of police were at the main gate and the raiders divided themselves into two batches, one of which the officers immediately arrested. A second batch attempted to force an entry at another point. The police charged with their batons or bamboo staves, injuring three and arresting the remainder.

Later in the day 20 more volunteers invaded Wadala, and while 15 were arrested the remainder got away with considerable salt.

Mrs. Gandhi and V. J. Patel, former president of the Indian legislative assembly and new leader of the civil disobedience movement, arrived here today to make plans for the future of the campaign. Mrs. Gandhi will preside today at a women's conference to organize measures to picket the liquor shops in Bombay suburbs.

The run on the Bank of India began yesterday, continued today despite a categorical denial over the signatures of all directors of the bank that the Manager A. G. Gray was present or in any way connected with arrests during the Wadala salt raids or the raid on the All-India National congress house.

The crowd withdrawing their deposits was much smaller today than it was yesterday.

GRATEFUL MAN FINDS RELIEF IN NEW KONJOLA

Modern Medicine Relieves Two Years of Suffering From Dread Neuritis

MR. R. L. BILLINGSLEY

"For two years I was in constant misery from neuritis and constipation," said Mr. R. L. Billingsley, 4422 North Sheridan Road, Kenosha, Wis. My ankles swelled terribly at night and the pain was almost unbearable. There were days when I could scarcely walk, I was constantly taking laxatives for temporary relief from constipation. My kidneys became weak and I was forced to break my sleep with frequent bladder actions. My appetite became poor and my general health badly run down.

"Konjola went right to work in my case. I could feel improvement in my condition from the very start. Gradually my ailments disappeared. My bowels were regulated; kidneys strengthened, and in one month those terrible pains of neuritis vanished. I am taking on weight and getting stronger every day. I certainly am grateful for all the improvements in my health which this wonderful medicine made."

Konjola has become the most talked of medicine in America because it makes good. And Konjola makes good in the most stubborn cases when given a fair chance. From six to eight bottles are recommended as a treatment.

Konjola is sold in Appleton at Schmitt's Bros. Co. drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section—adv.

BUSINESS WOMEN ELECT OFFICERS

All Seats but That of President Are Filled at Meeting

Neenah—All offices but that of president were filled Wednesday afternoon at the annual election of the Neenah-Menasha Business and Professional Women's club at St. Thomas parish house. Several nominees for the head office refused to accept the position and it was decided to postpone the election of a president until the June meeting.

Miss Clara Bloom was elected vice president. Other officers are Miss Saida Tipler, recording secretary; Miss Gail Longe, corresponding secretary and Miss Genevieve Rogers, treasurer.

Dr. P. A. Teschner, Milwaukee, staff physician of the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association, was the principal speaker. The topic of his address was "From Diet to Tuberculosis." During the course of his talk, Dr. Teschner pointed out the various fallacies of dieting and told the group about the tragic results of too strenuous dieting programs.

"There are too many women, who in their over zealous efforts to reduce, are adhering to the advice of others in regard to diets and ruining their bodies," Dr. Teschner said. "The human body must be fed with the proper kinds of food, three times daily."

He submitted a group of rules for healthful dieting as a substitute to the many foolish methods used by women who are attempting to reduce. He urged the women to adopt at least some items of proper diet programs.

DAVIS VICTORY IS PLEASING TO HOOVER

whom he served had to maintain a middle of the road course in the controversies between capital and labor. Mr. Hoover will now have to choose a secretary of labor and it will be no easy job.

Inasmuch as the national administration was not really a paramount issue in the Pennsylvania primary the political leaders are inclined to attach considerable significance to the large vote polled for the third candidate, Francis J. Bohlen, who ran on a wet platform.

He polled the largest vote that any wet had ever registered before. It is not believed that the results would have been much different in the senatorial race if Professor Bohlen had not been entered for many of the wet votes would have been split between Mr. Grundy and Mr. Davis both of whom more or less avoided the prohibition issue, though their inclination toward the wet side is well known.

As an organization battle, the prowess of William S. Vare of Philadelphia, has been demonstrated once again. The Mellon organization in western Pennsylvania had no antipathy toward Secretary Davis but felt committed to Mr. Grundy long before the secretary of labor decided to enter the contest for senator.

There is the friendliest feeling toward Secretary Mellon for example, by his colleague in the cabinet, Mr. Davis.

Western Pennsylvania will wonder of course what effect the election of Jim Davis will have on the prospects of renomination of Senator Reed who comes up four years hence.

With two senators from the western end of the state the cry may be raised from the eastern end that the candidate in opposition to Mr. Reed should be given preference. The fact however that the Philadelphia organization supported Jim Davis will tend to associate him as the choice of the eastern end of the state.

From the beginning it has been apparent here that Secretary Davis would make a good vote getter. He is a member of nearly every fraternal order in the country and has probably attended more local and state conventions of this kind than any other man in public life. He was born in Wales and came to America as the son of a poor immigrant. He will have achieved his life's ambition if he is elected to the senate and usually in Pennsylvania the Republican nomination is equivalent to victory in the final contest.

Chicago (CPA)—A growing fear of urban domination, held by rural communities, is being reflected in the opposition which already has forestalled at least temporarily another opportunity for constitutional reapportionment in Illinois.

Thirty years have elapsed since last the rural dominated state legislature would permit a reapportionment of districts to give Chicago the representation to which she is entitled under the constitution. In the present special session of the general assembly, the city is having to waive consideration of this question of reapportionment as one price to be paid for clearing her muddled finances.

Yet if the realignment of legislative districts were to be carried out, Chicago senators and assemblymen would probably be in control. When the state was redistricted in 1900, Cook-co, of which Chicago is the principal part, was given 19 out of 51 senatorial districts and 57 representatives in the lower house. On the basis of the 1920 census the county should have had 24 senators out of 51 and 72 members of the lower house. The 1930 census is expected to give legislative control to the state's metropolis provided reapportionment is permitted.

Rural communities, however, and some of the smaller cities of the state, hesitate to relinquish a domination held by them for generations. Many of Chicago's governmental woes grow from a refusal of the state legislators either to grant the city home rule or to give it the representation to which it is entitled by constitutional provision.

By refusing to reapportion, the downstate districts have managed to hold a club over the head of rapidly growing Chicago. One of the favorite legislative pastimes has been to impose taxes which draw heavily on the big city, and then to distribute those taxes largely for the benefit of the rest of the state. This was the method used by Gov. Len Small to maintain his political hold. A new deal had been anticipated.

However, the rural districts are shown still to be coveting their power. Whether Chicago is to be permitted to rebuild its antiquated gov-

OCOONTO MAN AGAIN IN RAILWAY MAIL SERVICE

(Post-Crescent Washington Bureau)
Washington—Henry E. Sorenson of Oconto has been reinstated in the railway mail service as a result of work done for him by Rep. George J. Schneider of Appleton. He will be added to the "Upper Michigan" roll.

For years before the war, Sorenson was in the railway mail service, but after being assigned to a run he did not like, he was transferred to the office of postmaster of a small Michigan post office. He did not like that work as well as the railway mail work, and has been seeking to be reinstated.

He took one examination and failed to be reinstated as a result of it. Rep. Schneider asked the Civil Service commission to admit him to a second examination, with the result that he took the second examination and was reinstated with a high rating.

HAYS SAYS MOVIES DEVELOPING WIDER FOREIGN BUSINESS

Praises "Subtle Power of Suggestion Emanating from the Screen"

Los Angeles (AP)—Development of world trade through the motion picture was brought to the attention of 2,000 delegates to the seventeenth national foreign trade convention here today by Will H. Hays, president of the motion picture producers and distributors of America.

"Motion pictures exert a profound influence on the buying habits of mankind," he said. "Hardly a day passes that we do not receive confirmation of new trends in purchasing which have arisen as a result of the subtle power of suggestion emanating from the screen. This influence, it is needless to say, is as unpurchasable in entertainment films as the front pages of the world's greatest newspapers."

"Millions of people everywhere see in the movies articles of true distinction to which they might otherwise be strangers. They come to comprehend standards radically different from those to which they have become accustomed and the desire for possession is aroused. This new business is brought into being and new currents of trade are set in motion. So does trade follow the film but it is everybody's trade and the manufacturers of every nation benefit.

"The motion picture carries to every potential purchaser in every land the visual, vivid perception of all the world's manufactured products which go to make life more worth living."

"Motion pictures make their contribution in placing before the people everywhere, in convincing fashion, the comforts and conveniences which are available to those who will work and grow."

"In addition to the recognized, direct salesmanship by the motion picture, it performs two great services for business. First, the pleasure and relaxation it affords the workman and his family. Second, through the motion picture's impact of personality, the citizens of every nation get a sympathetic picture of the nationals of all others."

Des Moines (CP)—Mrs. Gardner Cowles, Jr., was granted a divorce from Gardner Cowles, Jr., managing editor of the Des Moines Register and Tribune, in district court yesterday. The suit was brought on grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment and was not contested. Mr. and Mrs. Cowles were married at Ames, Iowa, Nov. 3, 1926.

American League Clubs Are Staging Interesting Race

ATHLETICS, NATS BATTLE FOR LEAD; A'S HOLDING EDGE

Babe Ruth Gets Three Homers in Game Wednesday Afternoon

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON
(Associated Press Staff Writer)
ALTHOUGH their race has been rather overshadowed by the heated struggle in the National league, the clubs of the American league have been putting on some rather interesting contests of their own for the higher positions in the standings.

Little more could be asked of the two leaders, the Washington Senators and the Philadelphia Athletics, than the pace they have been setting. They are separated only by a one game margin, the Senators having two more victories, and neither seems to be able to do anything to increase or decrease it.

They both engaged in double headers yesterday and came out with two victories apiece to hold their places. Washington, with Sam Jones and Adolph Liska, carrying the pitching burden, defeated the Boston Red Sox by scores of 10 to 2 and 6 to 1.

YANKS LEAD 6-0
The Athletics got off to a very bad start against the New York Yankees when Babe Ruth hit two home runs on his first two trips to the plate and started the Yankees off to a 6-0 lead, but those six runs meant little with the world's champions cut loose with a rally that brought nine runs in the seventh and a 15 to 7 victory. Rube Walberg then pitched the A's to a 4 to 1 victory.

Ruth's feats of home run hitting stole the show at Philadelphia, in addition to the two successive homers, Babe added a third in the same game.

Chicago in fifth place is but 23 games ahead of the eighth place Detroit Tigers after yesterday's 9 to 3 victory over Detroit. St. Louis Browns moved into sixth place by edging out a 6 to 5 victory over Cleveland.

The National league consolidated its lineup as the four first division clubs defeated second division contenders. The leading Brooklyn Robins scored three four run bursts to beat the St. Louis Cardinals 12 to 1.

The St. Louis Cardinals cut a big break when Jackie May of Cincinnati cut loose a wild pitch with a man on third and broke a 2-2 tie to give the Cards a 3-2 victory. Pittsburgh held its precarious grip on third place by defeating the Cubs 10 to 3.

New York's Giants defeated the Braves 11 to 4.

BADGER OARSMEN MEET PENN CREW

Race Saturday Will Be First of Spring Season for Both Boats

Madison — With the close approach of the varsity race with Pennsylvania Saturday interest in crew activities at the University of Wisconsin has suddenly become widespread and tense here.

Penn's beautiful new shell, built by George Pocock of Seattle, reached here from the coast city Monday, and Coach Rusty Callow and his Red and Blue delegation will arrive at 5:45 P. M. Thursday. As their boat has already been put in shape by the Wisconsin navy department, Penn is expected to go direct from the train to the Varsity boat house and put in an hour or so of rowing before darkness falls Thursday.

The Eastern crew will have a considerable weight and age advantage over the Badgers as they average 170 pounds in weight and 6 feet 1 inch in height, with not a man in the boat under 6 feet in height except the coxswain. All are seniors except the bow and No. 2 men, and their average age is almost 22 years. Penn is a big heavy seasoned outfit. Although Coach Callow's men have been pretty well beaten in most of their races this spring, they have been improving slowly and are about as good as the Eastern crew.

Valley League Gossip

Big league brand of baseball was on tap in the Valley league last Sunday as each of the games were decided by one run margins. All of the spokes in the wheel seem evenly matched and a red hot pennant chase is forecast.

Fans around the circuit are wondering what's wrong at Kim-Little Chute. The Papermakers have dropped both their starts. Leave it to Marty Lamers. He will soon have his ball club up there winning a lot of games.

It looks like a big year for Appleton in a baseball way. The Collegians have a hustling aggregation and it will take a pretty club to bump 'em off. The youngsters are on their toes every minute. This means a lot.

The baseball lid in Nee-Menasha sure was pried off with a dandy exhibition as the Pails nosed out Wisconsin Rapids, 2 to 1, in a thrilling 13-inning engagement. It was anybody's game right up until the winning run.

Kaukauna has visions of getting somewhere in baseball this season. After getting bumped in the league opener, the Kaws came back nicely.

Staging a two run rally in the sixth inning and then another in the eighth to take a one run lead and a victory, Onev Johnst n legonaire "football team defeated the Valley Iron company in a thrilling battle 6 and 5 Wednesday. The game was played at Pierce park.

The vets started the game by getting one run when Eddie Steward got a hit and then scampered around the bases despite approaching old age. Another run was counted in the third inning to give the vets a 2 and 0 lead.

A big fourth inning for the Ironmen during which time five runs were chased across the plate on six hits, wiped out the Irons' advantage and had the Ironmen three counts to the good.

The advantage was short lived however, for the sixth inning came along and the vets counted twice and then rallied in the eighth to win. The game ended with Bates of the vets taking a dive to catch Ogilvie's foul.

Tonight the Badger Printers and Atlas mill teams are scheduled for a battle.

MILWAUKEE WINS FROM SAINT PAUL

Colonels Cop and Now Lead Association Race by 3 1-2 Games

Chicago —(P)— Louisville's lead over St. Paul in the American association championship battle today was three and one half games—thanks to more hard hitting by the Colonels and a little help from the staggering Milwaukee Brewers.

While the Louisville entrant was engaged in hammering out an 8 to 3 victory over Toledo, the Brewers turned on a 15-hit attack to defeat St. Paul, 11 to 8.

Milwaukee evened its series with St. Paul largely by hitting out home runs. The Saints out-hit the Brewers, 17 to 15, but the latter's collection included four home runs and a pair of triples, Jenkins accounted for two homers and Mervyn Shea and Tex Blossom got one each. Rosy Ryan, who failed against the Saints Thursday, relieved Strelecki and stopped a St. Paul threat.

Extreme wildness by Indianapolis pitchers and poor fielding helped Columbus win the second game of the series from the Indians, 11 to 3. Daney, Ambrose and Wolff walked a total of 10 Senators while three of the errors, contributed by out-fielders, proved costly.

A five run rally in the seventh inning gave Kansas City a 10 to 6 decision over Minneapolis, and an even break in the series.

Lakewood Bay, at the eastern end of the lake, and finishing opposite the Memorial Union building. Temporary bleachers to seat 1,000 persons are being erected at the finishing line.

Sunday to nose out their old rivals Kim-Little Chute, 21, in a tenning tilt.

Sometimes errors grow in bunches and this is just what happened to the Wisconsin Rapids' middle station pair against Nee-Menasha. Short stop Decker was charged with three misques while Tungen, at second base had a pair.

Dave Zuidmuler, one of Green Bay's own who did a bit of footballing for the Packers last fall, made his debut in the box for the Green Sox and pitched brilliant ball against Appleton. He allowed but three bingles.

That Smith-Wenzel combination is doing things for Kaukauna this season. In the Kim-Little Chute Skirmish, Smith singled in the tenth and came home with the winning run when Wenzel hit one on the nose.

Despite weather that was more fit for football than the diamond article, business was good at the gate in Sunday's games. Appleton had the biggest crowd in years while Nee-Menasha and Kaukauna also drew well.

"Casey" Jansen is still running the ball game. The mayor of Little Chute dean of the Valley umpiring staff, is just as important as ever and the players need a special introduction if they want to argue with him.

Appleton pulled a triple play on Green Bay. Decker and Clusman walked on the last-and-run Heberling lined to Toynow, who made a fancy catch. The second sacker shot the pill to first and Eggert relayed it to second.

This same Toynow hit one over the fence and it probably is going yet Zuidmuler had him "two and three" and then grooved one which Toynow connected solidly and it cleared the left field fence by at least 30 feet.

Mulroy, the Kaukauna shortstop, should have a banner year. He has started to hit the pill hard. So far as fielding is concerned. The Kaws' performer doesn't have to take his hat off to any infielder in the Valley circuit.

Pocan is going to remain with the Kim-Little Chute club. The star right hander had been down to Racine a couple of times to get "acquainted" but he decided it was best to stay at home and work 12 months in the year.

"Stub" Huber is one of the veterans who is still very much at home in Valley league ball. The Wisconsin Rapids' red-light bag guardian covers a mile of territory and it seems as if he can throw from any position.

The Nee-Menasha Pails can lay claim to one of the best Polish out fields in the state. Scheleski in left, Levandowski in center and Zepenski in right make up a nifty fly-trapping trio. All these boys are hard hitters.

There is going to be a lot of good catching in the Valley loop as every spoke in the wheel is blessed with a good backstop. Green Bay is even doubly fortunate as both Glick and Woley are rated as ace receivers.

Judnick is making a successful debut as a first baseman at Wisconsin Rapids. He is big enough to make a good target for tosses and appears to play the bag well. To date he has been hitting often but in hard luck.

Another one of those box score mysteries developed in the Appleton-Green Bay game. Dave Zuidmuler wasn't charged with a time at bat although he was up four times. The Bay slabster walked thrice and sacrificed once.

Appleton jaunts over to Wisconsin Rapids this Sunday while Nee-Menasha is scheduled for an encounter at Kim-Little Chute. Kaukauna is billed to invade Green Bay when Clusman & Co. stage their home coming game.

KIMBERLY SOFTBALL TEAM WINS, 4 AND 2

Kimberly—The Kimberly Club's softball team took a close game from the Lakeview team of Neenah on the latter's diamond, the score being 4 to 2.

Dud Cochran pitched a great game for the winners. Stinski pitched the first five innings for the Neenah team and then was relieved by Stachurs who finished the game. The Kimberly team collected hits compared to 8 for the Lakeview squad.

$1,500,000 BEING SPENT TO RETAIN YACHTING PRESTIGE

Financial Syndicates Build Boats to Meet Tom Lipton's Shamrock

NEW YORK —(P)— When the whirlwind, the last of the potential defenders of America's cup to take the water, is launched tomorrow or Saturday more than $1,500,000 will have been expended in the preliminary defense of American yachting prestige against the challenge made by Sir Thomas Lipton.

Probably twice this sum will be needed before the completion of the trials to decide which yacht shall sail against the Shamrock V for the trophy, which originally was valued at less than $1,000. Then another $500,000 will be added either vainly or triumphantly by the time of the actual race in September.

Powerful financial syndicates are back of the respective contenders. The sloop Enterprise, which has a big advantage over her rivals in the matter of preparations, was built by a syndicate headed by Harold S. Vanderbilt and E. Walter Clark N. Y. financial leaders T. P. Morgan, Junius S. Morgan, Gerard B. Lambert and George Nichols, son-in-law of the elder Morgan, are back of the sloop Westmore.

The Whirlwind is being financed almost entirely by Langdon K. Thorne and Paul Hammond of New York. Chandler Hovey, John S. Lawrence and Frank C. Fane head a group of Boston enthusiasts behind the Yankee.

Some idea of the expense incurred in the construction of one of the boats is seen in the cost of the array of sail used. The yachts carry two or three mainmasts, each costing from $20,000 to $35,000. In addition, there are the auxiliary sails to the number of 12 or more sets, which run the expenditure for sails alone from $50 to 100,000 dollars.

The towering masts, reaching 155 to 185 feet above the deck, cost approximately $25,000. Each of the vessels is required to have a spare mast.

Twenty per cent more may be added to the expense of Lipton's single vessel, as the English sportsman is required to bring his boat across the Atlantic, accompanied by a fleet of tenders to accommodate guests and a crew of 22.

SEEK REINSTATEMENT FOR HAWK ATHLETES

Iowa City, Ia. —(P)— University of Iowa athletic officials have not given up hope of gaining reinstatement for eight of the 14 athletes disqualified for bowling from an all-Iowa state fund.

An appeal to the Western conference faculty committee on athletics, which almost a year ago ordered Iowa expelled from the Big Ten, will be presented Friday at Chicago.

Mike Fauroh who was elected captain of the 1930 Hawkeye football team will be taken to Evanston, Ill., Thursday with the hope he might be reinstated to throw the discus for Iowa in the Big Ten track and field championship Saturday.

HOLD TRIANGULAR TRACK MEET HERE

Oshkosh, West Green Bay and Appleton Compete at Whiting Field

Appleton, Oshkosh and West Green Bay high schools are scheduled to hold a triangular track and field meet at Whiting athletic field Saturday afternoon. Oshkosh and Appleton competed a week ago but Green Bay's visit here will be the first in which the teams have participated.

The Sawdust city squad is not favored to make much of an impression, leaving the battle up to West and Appleton. Oshkosh will take first place in two events, according to the dope, the shot put and discus, and will "also ran" in other events.

The West Bays, while rating stronger than Oshkosh, haven't much to offer either this year. They lost a dual meet with Sheboygan last week, the marks all being under those Appleton has set.

BY LAWRENCE PERRY
Copyright 1930

NEW YORK—Behold once more the figure of Bill Tilden looming gigantic upon the international lawn tennis horizon.

The French Lawn Tennis association in sending players for the hard court championships at St. Cloud has named the American champion No. 2, just behind Cochet and ahead of Borotra. This means that French judges of tennis form, shrewd men all, regard Tilden, now that Lacoste is in retirement, as the second best lawn tennis player in the world.

Who knows better he is through this year that the French and even one else will hold him as the world's premier racket wielder. It is improbable? Yes, perhaps. But it is now outside the realm of possibility.

Tilden has been going great guns in Europe throughout the winter and spring thus far. Those who have seen him say he has never played better tennis. So, with all his infinite variety of strokes working in the old manner, the one question relates to his endurance. If in this second blooming he has not overtaken himself, he can forecast the heights to which he may rise this year.

Certainly the feeling among tennis enthusiasts here is that if Tilden keeps on as he has been going the

NO ACADEMIES AT STAGG TRACK MEET

Chicago —(P)— The university of Chicago's annual national interscholastic track and field championships will be limited this year to public high schools. Coach A. A. Stagg, has announced.

The academy division, part of the meet for many years, has been dropped. The meet, which will be run off May 30 and 31 on Stagg field, has attracted an entry list of 34 schools from 14 states.

Davis cup committee would make a mistake not to assist Big Bill in any lurking tendency he may have to rescind his decision never again to represent his country as a member of the international team.

With Tilden maintaining his present form, the winning by the United States of the right to engage France in the Davis cup challenge round and the subsequent defeat of the Frenchmen are not absurd assumptions.

Certainly it would seem as though France was less able to put up an favorable front than at any time since she won the famous trophy. Lacoste is recovering very slowly from his lung trouble and will not be available for play this year. Borotra's status is reflected in his being seeded No. 3 in the clay court championships and, practically, the bumping he received from Bunny Austin in the Paris-London matches would indicate falling form.

COCHET SLUMPS
Cochet was hard pressed to win from Borotra, a low ranking player and while the Lyons racket swinger has a habit of turning in poor early season matches, his form none the less, in view of all things, will be a source of worry.

It is not at all inconceivable that with Tilden playing in the singles the United States might so carry the match as to make the outcome of the doubles feature a deciding factor. Allison and Van Ryn crushed the old French doubles combination, Cochet and Borotra, in the Roland Garros Stadium last year and inasmuch as the French doubles team has retrogressed rather than improved since the cup finals last year, it is likely that a new arrangement will be made—either Cochet and Brugnon or De Buzolet and Bousson. Either pair would face the young Princetonian and his Texan side partner with the odds against them.

SIMPSON SEEKS CENTURY RECORD WITHOUT BLOCKS

Ohio State Sprinter Expects to Better or Set New Mark Saturday

CHICAGO (AP)—George Simpson, the Ohio flyer threw away his wooden starting blocks yesterday determined to set a new world record for the 100 yard dash in the Western conference track and field championships at Northwestern university Friday and Saturday.

Simpson's action followed news that the International Amateur Federation, in its meeting at Berlin, had refused to approve his record of .09.4 made with the use of blocks in the national collegiate meet last year, and at the same time had recognized the .09.5 of Eddie Tolan, Michigan's bespectacled Negro flash, accomplished in the Western conference meet a year ago.

Since Tolan became eligible for intercollegiate competition last year a great rivalry between the Wolverine and Simpson has existed. The edge in victories is with Simpson by a wide margin, but in Tolan's only victory over the Ohio State sprinter, he obtained the coveted world mark.

Previous records mean nothing when the stocky, short-legged Tolan, and the wiry, rangy Simpson get together. Coach Steve Farrell of Michigan has a faculty of having sprinters "right" when he wants them that way, and Tolan will be primed Friday and Saturday. Simpson defeated Tolan with regularity last year until they came together in the Big Ten outdoor championships and probably will face Tolan at his best this weekend in Dyche stadium.

Their methods are similar. Both are good off the mark but there are faster starters than either. Both pick up speed quickly and each has a terrific finishing "kick." Simpson had a few inches lead over Tolan at 90 yards in last year's world record race, but Tolan, his glasses taped to his head, outfinished the Buckeye. They were close in the 220-yard dash with 50 yards to go. Tolan began to gain on Simpson but the latter's luck was too good and he won by six inches in .20.5 tying the world record.

CUB PITCHERS ARE WORRYING M'CARTHY

Chicago (AP)—The conduct of Chicago Cub pitchers is causing manager Joe McCarthy no end of worry as June 15, the time when all cuts will have been made, approaches. McCarthy is carrying an even dozen servers now and three of them will finish the season elsewhere. The five regulars, Pat Malone, Guy Bush, Hal Carlson, Sheriff Blake and Charlie Root, are almost certain to remain, although only Carlson and Root had winning percentages today.

Sports Question Box

Question—Brown was at bat with one strike and one ball. Manager stopped the game to change pitchers. Can the manager change pitchers after he has delivered a ball to the batter until the latter has been retired or becomes a base runner? Answer—Yes.

Don Moe Sensation Of Yank Amateur Golf Team

BY FRANCIS J. POWERS Copyright 1930

CHICAGO—The golf world was introduced to another gallant fighter with the raw courage needed to win over tremendous odds when Don Moe the Oregon youngster helped the United States in its sweeping victory over the British in the Walker cup matches. Moe's play at Sandwich greatly increases the American's chances for a triumph in the British amateur at St. Andrews, next week, where every strong mashie will be needed.

Moe's golf is unusually brilliant for a first tripper in Britain for the winds and tricky greens of the empire's courses take heavy toll of the novice and have checked such great stars as Bob Jones, Chick Evans and Walter Hagen. At Sandwich, Moe scored heavily against the unusual conditions and should do as well at St. Andrews where there is less of a premium on straightness. The young Oregonian's victory over John Stout of England in the singles of the Walker matches will go down as one of the most thrilling matches of the year. Seven down with 15 to play, Moe fired such a volley of sub par shots that he was able to win on the home green and set a new course record with a 67. That is a feat that would demand all the skill and brilliance of a genius like Jones and it stamped

LOS ANGELES PLANS FOR OLYMPIC MEET

Los Angeles (AP)—Plans for construction here of an Olympic village, 15 training fields and gymnasiums and swimming pools, all to be used in holding the 1932 Olympic games, are to be submitted to the international Olympic committee meeting today in Berlin, Germany.

The housing plan involves an Olympic village to be constructed near Exposition park, where the major events will be held. The coliseum is being enlarged to accommodate 105,000 persons. Here the track, field and gymnastic championships events will be held as well as the opening and closing ceremonies. An Olympic swimming stadium will be erected with a seating capacity of 13,000 within a short distance of the Coliseum. Olympic fine arts competitions will be housed in the museum and the fencing events will be staged in the armory, a part of the exposition park plant. Boxing, wrestling, and weight lifting will be held at the Olympic auditorium, which seats 11,000 persons.

ST. JOE TRACKSTERS IN INTER CLASS MEET

The first inter class track meet ever held at St. Joseph junior high school was staged the first part of the week with the ninth grade winning with 65 points. The eighth grade was second with 46 points and the seventh grade third with a lone marker. Marks hung up by the boys are considered promising, and the material at the school very good. St. Joe is entered in the valley parochial school meet at DePere the last week in the month.

HUSKIES MAY NOT ROW AT 'KEEPSIE

Rough Weather Has Prevented Crew Working 3 Weeks

Seattle, Wash. (AP)—Because stormy weather has hampered the training work of the University of Washington crew the last three weeks, Coach Al Ulbrickson, has announced a possibility that the Huskies would not compete in the national regatta at Poughkeepsie June 26.

"If we don't accomplish any more in the next two weeks practice than we did in the last three it would be silly and a waste of money for us to go to Poughkeepsie," said Ulbrickson. "Of course, we are hoping and figuring to make the trip but if we don't get into some kind of racing condition before June 10 I will recommend that we stay home."

The Huskies were to leave Seattle for Poughkeepsie June 10, with a stopover at Madison, for a race with the Badgers June 16.

ILLINOIS GOLFERS WIN BIG 10 TITLE

Both Team, Individual Honors Go to Wearers of Orange, Blue

Evanston, Ill. (AP)—Both team and individual big ten championship ships in the royal and ancient game of golf today belonged to dapper darts wearing the orange and blue of Illinois.

Dick Martin, junior of Illinois Junior who wears glasses at and on the golf course, led the individual crown while Ted and his crew, 11 hnd golfing mates, a squad of Big Ten championship trophy among the many athletic souvenirs won by Illinois athletes.

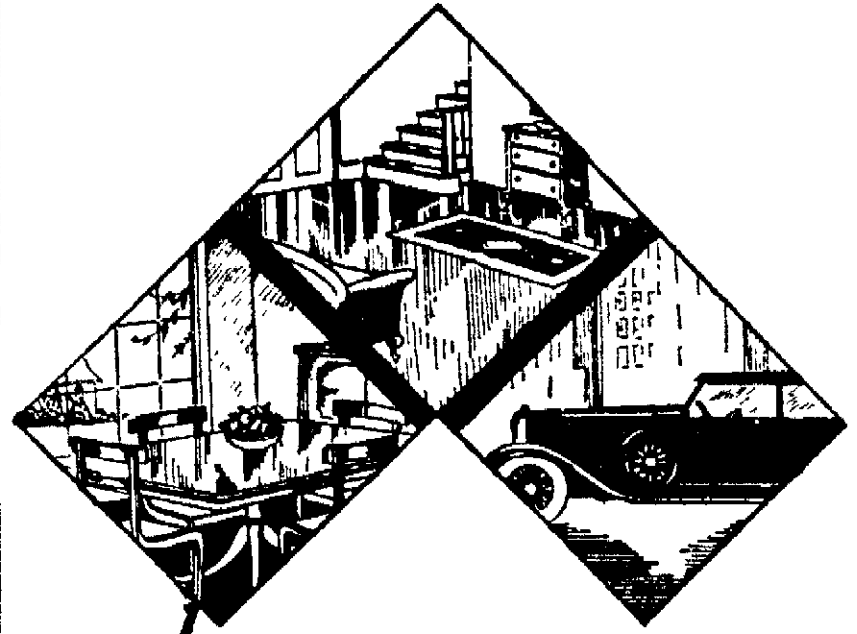

Coming back with a pair of 75s in the final 18 hole rounds at the West moreland Country Club course yesterday, Martin snatched the individual title from Davis Hicks, Michigan sophomore, and Bob Keck, junior of sophomore from Ohio State by a single stroke. His total for the two-day tournament over the heavily trapped course was 30.

The fight for the team championship was almost a breeze at the team of Martin, Ted Crow, Freddy Lyon, and Sunny Moe. They entered the final hole with a 10 stroke lead and at the end of the last 18 hole round had a 10 stroke lead over the runner-up Michigan team of Hicks, Keck, by Howard and Ed Scott which landed second 38 with only two strokes from the Illinois team. The new champions had 11 strokes from Martin's low to Moe's 219. Minnesota, which was champion times and end.

STEINLE SECURED AS SPEAKER FOR MEMORIAL PROGRAM

Former Judge Advocate of American Legion Talks at New London

Special to Post-Crescent
New London—Roland J. Steinle, of Milwaukee, past judge advocate of the American Legion, will be the speaker at the program arranged for Memorial day. He will speak at the Grand theater, where a part of the day's program will be held. The Legion, with the aid of the other patriotic organizations, has arranged an interesting meeting in which all citizens are asked to participate.

With D. B. Egan as marshal of the day, the line of march for the parade will be from the high school grounds to the Grand theater and following the services there back to Wyman-st. from where cars will convey the marchers to the cemetery for the remaining formalities of the day.

The procession will be led by Motorcycle Policeman Macklin and the color bearers, Urban Gruenzel, Henry Hoffman, William Whiteman, Leonard Knudsen and Albert Van Astine. The city band will follow, after which will come the city officials, veterans of the Grand Army of the Republic in a car, Spanish War veterans and the color squad. Among these will be Nic Drier, Arthur Radke and E. G. Brown. Then will follow the firing squad, including Leonard Manske, Harry Huntley, Frank Davis, Henry McDaniels, Elmer Quandt, Dr. Fred Loss, Gus Peurist, Austin Dexter, George Feurst, Edward Jagoditsch and Carl Ory.

Following the firing squad will march veterans of the World War members of the Women's Relief corps, Legion Auxiliary, Junior auxiliary, Boy and Girl scouts, teachers and pupils of the parochial and public schools.

The program at the theater will be opened by the presentation of the colors and the singing of America in which all will join.

Invocation will be followed by a flag drill in which the junior auxiliary will take part. The Gettysburg address will be given by a high school student and two songs will be sung by the Legion quartet. The address of the day will precede the reading of "The Banders' Flag," this to be contributed by a high school student, then will follow the benediction, singing of the Star Spangled banner and sounding of taps.

SHERWOOD DEFEATS DARBOY IN OPENER

Special to Post-Crescent
Sherwood—Darboy opened its 1930 baseball season Sunday, the latter team winning a hard fought game 5 to 3. Town Chairman George Schaefer threw the first ball which was received by J. C. Hallett, secy. and treasurer of the league. The game was a pitchers duel up to the eighth inning with the score 1 to 1. Leeros pitched road ball. The eighth inning proved to be the exciting one with Darboy running in two scores and Sherwood following up with four scores to win the game.

The Appleton team opened with Stockbridge at Stockbridge and won 12 to 3. Stockbridge could not seem to get going until the ninth inning. They have one of the strongest teams in the league and will without doubt make up for their poor start once they hit their stride. Next Sunday Sherwood will play at Appleton and Stockbridge at Darboy.

STATE BAR TO MEET AT WAUSAU IN JUNE

Three-day Convention Will Open June 25—Select Badger Speakers

WAUSAU—(P)—Old John Law, as personified by more than 1,000 members of the Wisconsin Bar association, will go into conference with himself here for three days next month.

On June 25 the association opens a three-day convention at the Wisconsin hotel. All speakers will be Wisconsin men.

Officers of the bar association expressed hope that the convention attendance of last year would be greatly exceeded at the Wausau meet. Last year more than 700 members and their wives registered in Milwaukee.

Judge Evan A. Evans, Baraboo, of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, sitting at Chicago, will be the principal speaker at the convention. Judge Evans' name was recently mentioned as a possible Hoover appointee to the supreme court.

President Arthur W. Kopp, Platteville, will deliver the annual address on the opening day. "Inferior Courts of Record in Wisconsin and their Jurisdiction" has been selected as his subject.

Two important round table discussions will be conducted during the convention. The subjects are: "Should Judges of Courts of Record Be Denied the Privilege of Practicing Law?" and "Should Wisconsin Adopt Compulsory Automobile Insurance?" The latter discussion will assume the nature of a debate between Daniel H. Grady, Portage, and Joseph A. Padway, Milwaukee, both of whom have made deep study of this question.

Chain banking, subject of discussion in a variety of groups this year will come before the convention in an address by Prof. W. H. Kieckhefer, economist at the University of Wisconsin. "The Bank Merger Movement" is the subject of his address. Points of law involved in constructing buildings on air, or more technically, "air rights," will be discussed by John F. Baker, Milwaukee.

Several committees will make reports during the three-day meeting.

HERE AND THERE WITH FARMERS

BY W. F. WINSEY

Onida—F. W. Silverwood has five widely separated beds of cabbage on his farm and intended to plant 55 acres of cabbage. Whether he can plant the entire acreage is an open question since the frost of last Friday night as his beds on low ground are badly damaged. Some of the plants in the high beds appear to have escaped. Ten acres of cabbage peas on his farm are damaged badly in some places but escaped in sheltered places. His sweet clover and alfalfa show the effect of the frost.

Shiocton—Herman Knorr, Jr. planted eight beds of cabbage scattered about his farm hoping in that way to get one bed at least free from maggot infestation. The plants in each of his beds were doing well until the frost of Friday night made a clean sweep of all the beds and plants. Under the best growing conditions any one of the beds would have supplied Mr. Knorr with all the plants he needed in his home cabbage fields. Without waiting to lament his loss, he set out the ninth bed on Saturday.

Hortonville—While some of the pea fields of the Fox Valley Canning Company have been injured by the Friday night frost, the company on the whole was very fortunate. Three hundred acres of the company's total of 1,750 of peas, although sprouted, were not above ground at the time of the frost, and 400 acres remained to be planted.

Hortonville—Otto Maves has an acre of frost proof, southern cabbage that has turned yellow since the frost of Friday night. The plants have wilted and are very sickly but the heart of the plants are still green. He planted the field in April, worked the soil often and had a very promising outlook for a crop on Thursday. The plants in his cabbage bed were nearly all destroyed. He expected to plant three acres of cabbage.

Hortonville—Frost killed the cabbage plants in the bed of Jess Lathrop in which he had planted four and one-half pounds of seed. He expected to plant a field of 12 acres. Spurred on by the damage done by the frost, Mr. Lathrop planted an emergency bed Monday, using two pounds of cabbage seed. He now expects to limit his cabbage acreage to the number of plants he can grow. Although his sweet clover escaped the frost, his sweet clover and alfalfa were frozen and flattened, his small grain was injured and most of his garden vegetables were destroyed.

Boston—It looks as if some Haverd boys have been trying to kidnap them, where shorts have been worn dummies. Four lads from Cambridge in white shorts and tuxedo coats crashed the Letter Carriers' hall. Two cops hustled them to a taxi.

INDIANS TO DETERMINE TIMBER, LAND RIGHTS

BY RUBY A. BLACK
Post-Crescent Washington Correspondent

Washington—The Menominee Indians will employ an attorney at a cost of $12,000 with $8,000 additional for expenses to determine the best way to conserve, develop, and operate their timber, power, and land resources if Congress passes the Browne bill just reported favorably by the Committee on Indian Affairs of the House of Representatives.

Ralph Frodenberg, legislative representative of the tribe here, is already consulting the Hughes law firm in New York, formerly headed by the present Chief Justice of the United States, in regard to the Menominee's problems.

The bill, introduced by Rep. Edward E. Browne of Waupaca, authorizes the employment of an attorney or firm of attorneys at an annual retainer of $8,000 a year for two years, with $8,000 additional for expenses, all to be paid out of the Menominee tribal funds.

The Bureau of Indian Affairs recommended the passage of the bill, stating that such an attorney could make a study of the assets of the tribe and determine whether the tribe should be incorporated or should form an unincorporated voluntary association of some kind to manage the valuable timber and power resources of the Menominees, paying dividends to the individual members of the tribe.

Music Teacher Happy Over Appleton Girl's Progress

With the second annual contest for the Chicago Civic Opera European scholarship scheduled for September and October, three young Chicago artists will have an opportunity to join Miss Helen Ornstein of this city and Miss Lydia Mihm abroad next fall. Miss Ornstein, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Ornstein, who with Miss Mihm won the first contest last fall, is now studying voice in Italy.

A letter just received from Maestro Tanana, with whom Miss Ornstein and Miss Mihm are studying, says that he has never had two such serious and hard-working students, devoted to their work and spending their entire time in the study of vocal technique, opera roles and languages. Their language teacher finds they are making rapid progress in Italian. "I am glad to state that I am ab-

RIVETS MAKE THE TANK-CAR OIL-TIGHT

The TORRID ZONE STEEL FURNACE is gas-tight and dust-tight because it is riveted

WARM air, the choice of all real authorities on healthful heating, reaches perfection through the Torrid Zone. The special construction of this longer-lasting furnace insures clean, warm air, at all times free from fumes—and brighter and happier homes.

For just as the tank-car is made leak-proof by hot-riveting and cold-calking...

so the steel Torrid Zone is made gas, smoke and dust-tight.

That means no gas-tainted air when the furnace is freshly fueled or banked for the night. No dust or smoke from the registers following a shake down. Even the cellar or furnace-room will be cleaner than you ever thought it could be, because of the unusually snug firing and ash doors. Every part of the Torrid Zone is as tight as a drum.

Two other essentials to health and comfort—humidity and ventilation—obtainable only with warm air systems, are a part of the Torrid Zone. The humidifier has twice the evaporating area inside the casing of ordinary water pans, and it is positioned for rapid evaporation. Air circulation is guaranteed when an authorized Lennox Furnace man installs according to the Standard Code.

LENNOX TORRID ZONE FURNACE for soft coal with outer casing removed, showing riveted construction. (A) Extra-long smoke chamber, or radiator, squeezes maximum of heat from smoke before it can escape up chimney. (B) The specially designed fuel-saving fire-pot with locomotive grates and other features. You can see why this furnace is guaranteed for 10 years and why its average life, based on the service records of thousands of Torrid Zones, is 21 years.

The efficiency of a Torrid Zone magnifies your coal pile. Oversized heating surface causes Torrid Zone furnaces to produce from 10% to 20% more heat from the fuel than other furnaces, hence they will heat with less fuel than other furnaces will consume. Models for soft coal, coke, hard coal, lignite, wood, gas or oil.

Come in and see why the Torrid Zone is the most desirable furnace that heating science has yet devised. Look at its sturdy locomotive grates and "lazy" shaker. Get the booklet that explains its features in detail. We will gladly furnish plans and estimates for either new or old homes or other buildings. Factory blueprints obtained for special problems. Made by the LENNOX FURNACE COMPANY, Syracuse, New York—Marshalltown, Iowa—Toronto, Canada.

An Ailing CHILD

Are you prepared to render first aid and quick comfort the moment your youngster has an upset of any sort? Could you do the right thing—immediately—though the emergency came without warning—perhaps tonight? Castoria is a mother's standby at such times. There is nothing like it in emergencies, and nothing better for everyday use. For a sudden attack of colic, or the gentle relief of constipation; to allay a feverish condition, or to soothe a fretful baby that can't sleep. This pure vegetable preparation is always ready to ease an ailing youngster. It is just as harmless as the recipe on the wrapper reads. If you see Chas. H. Fletcher's signature, it is genuine Castoria. It is harmless to the smallest infant; doctors will tell you so.

You can tell from the recipe on the wrapper how mild it is, and how good for little systems. But continue with Castoria until a child is grown.

Talks To Parents

VALUES
BY ALICE JUDSON PEALE

A mother of my acquaintance is being severely criticised by the father of the family because, having sent their two boys away to a boarding school for the winter, she now plans to send them to camp for the summer.
He feels that she is doing this because she selfishly wishes to be relieved of the responsibility of the children's care even during the few summer months of the year.
It seems to me that whenever we undertake to judge family situations we must know first what elements are really involved.

Whether or not two children who have been away from home all winter should be sent away again during the summer is entirely a question of which course seems best to meet their needs.
If it is possible to make a summer
at home a happy one with opportunities for interesting kinds of experience and broadening social contacts, if during those months the parents feel that they have something to contribute to their children's development it might indeed be better for them to stay at home.
But if, on the other hand, a summer at home would mean simply marking time as far as the children's real interests are concerned, then home is not the place for them regardless of how much or how little time they may have spent there during the previous month.
To judge such situations in terms of parental selfishness or sacrifice is simply to confuse the issue.
Whenever we have to decide a course of action for our children we have to do it not on the basis of our own emotional attitudes but in terms of what is best for them.

Murder at High Tide

By CHARLES G. BOOTH

SYNOPSIS: Pent up hate against the wealthy, arrogant Dan Parados finds an outlet in his murder. Every member of his household on secluded San Lucas Island is a suspect. Anatole Flaque, clever French detective, gets some clues of his own at a dinner table "murder game" before revealing that he has found Parados shot in his library. Samuels, deputy attorney, starts quizzing each member of the household. All deny any connection with the crime. Samuels tells Herbert Johns, keeper of the island fort, that an alibi "lets him out," and turns next to Celia Ferris, Parados' secretary. Allen Hunt, who came to appraise Parados' art collection, tells the story.

Chapter 10
THE YELLOW PETAL
S AMUELS turned next to Celia. "Now, young lady, what's your story?"
"Celia Ferris, secretary, 22, unmarried, been here a year," the girl drawled. "I was in my room reading when it happened and I share with Miss Brent the distinction of being without the untiest alibi."
"I suppose you are one of these modern young things with opinions," Samuels said irritably. "Well, go ahead."
"Celia," Annesley exclaimed sharply.
"I won't hush," Celia cried passionately. "Lies, deceit—I'm sick of them! There isn't one of us who didn't hate Dan Parados."
"It's true, Claude," Celia swept furiously on. "I hated him—so did you, Claude! And Mrs. Parados and Professor Johns and Miss Jahnies and Lum We—Miss Brent, too. I expect! M. Flaque had the sense to see through y'alls' why he proposed his crazy game — only it wasn't crazy. If you want motives for killing Dan Parados, ask Anatole Flaque!"
"Is this girl crazy?" Samuels demanded of Flaque.
"Mademoiselle is indiscreet, perhaps, M. le Deputy, but not crazy," Flaque tumbled his mustache. "But what about these motives? And that game?"
"It is so. And if monsieur will have the patience I shall inform him—BUT LATER — If mademoiselle will proceed—" and Flaque hesitated.
"Oh, I'm about through," Celia drawled. "Parados' telephone rang as I was going to my room."
"Did he answer it?" Samuels almost pounced on the girl.
"Yes."
"What time was that?"
"Twenty-five minutes of seven, perhaps."
"Did you overhear what he said?"
"No, M. Samuels," Celia said earnestly. "I didn't hear a word."
"Who called him?" Samuels' tone was ominous. "It must have been one of you."
A sharp silence fell.
"It was," Professor Johns said dryly. "I called him."
"What about?"
Professor Johns chuckled. "Parados had a fondness for the sea, especially when it was rough. I have known him to stand by The Gut for half an hour when the tide was high."
"He often did," Mrs. Parados said. "I called to remind him that the tide was one of the highest of the year," Professor Johns went on. "What did he say?"
The professor chuckled again. "He told me to go to the devil!"
Samuels looked down at the body. "I've an idea you started him on his way," Professor said. He muttered. "He must have gone toward the window. Somebody must have opened it and shot him."
"It would seem to confirm your silence theory," Johns continued. "If Miss Celia heard the telephone ring, somebody would certainly have heard the shot otherwise."
"A silencer was used," Samuels said. "That's certain."
"Ben," Flaque exclaimed. "But M. le Deputy spoke of motive. That safe, now—?"
"We ought to have opened it an hour ago," Samuels muttered. "Do you know the combination, Miss Parados?"
"I know where it is," she told him.
The safe was open when I was in here with Parados," he interjected. "Parados probably shut it again," Samuels guessed.
"Miss Parados had gone to the bookstore and taken down John Stuart Mills' "Political Economy." Blowing the dust off, she opened it and consulted what appeared to be figures written on the margin. She began to turn the safe dial."
"Somebody has been here!" Samuels exclaimed, as he swung the door open.
"Disarranged papers protruded from one of the drawers."
"Monsieur, that rose petal!" Flaque cried.
The petal to which Flaque referred was small and yellow. It was flattened against the bottom of the tiered section into which the great door fitted. Samuels dropped to his knees. "I could feel," Celia and Annesley staring with horror in their eyes.
Samuels carefully removed the yellow petal. He noticed that Gaingier had gone. Samuels slipped the petal into an envelope.
"I'll trouble you for that yellow rose, M. Annesley."
It was Celia who tore the rose from Annesley's buttonhole. "I hope you can make something out of it," she cried.
Horror was looking out of her eyes and she seemed unable to lift them to Annesley's. His eyes were defiant.
Samuels inspected the rose with studied deliberation. Celia shut her eyes. Samuels passed the rose and the envelope with the petal to Kirk. "Take a squint at that rose, Kirk. Maybe you'll find some petals missing. Compare that petal with those of the rose."
"Dan had a powerful lens in his desk," Miss Parados announced with unconcealed satisfaction. "Samuels asked Flaque, the doctor, and me to help him carry the body to a couch. It was ghastly business and I believe Samuels proposed it to demoralize Annesley."
Meanwhile Kirk found the lens. Gaingier had come into the room again. I noticed an apparently trifling incident occurred then. Returning near the writing table, Flaque took out his big handkerchief and polished the top of his head, then he dropped the handkerchief. Gaingier, who was near him, picked it up and Flaque accepted it with his beaming smile. That was all.
"Well, Mr. Annesley," she'd you get that rose?" Samuels inquired.
"Out of that bowl in the reception hall," Annesley said tersely.
"Oh, tell him, Claude," Celia burst forth wildly. She whirled upon Samuels. "If you want to know, I had had it in my hair and I thought it would be fun to pin it in his coat—" Annesley, shouted her name with vehemence.
"Celia!"
"Someone has got to tell the truth," Claude M. Flaque knows what's been going on here. He'll tell it if we don't. You hated Parados. You are glad he's dead. So am I. But you didn't kill him! Oh, Claude, you couldn't have!"

BELIEVE ATTEMPTS AT RAIL MERGERS WILL BE DROPPED

Opposition Grows from Many Directions in All Parts of Country

BY CHARLES F. SPEARE
Copyright, 1930, By Cons. Press
Wall Street, New York (CPA)— Opposition in so many forms and from so many directions, to railroad consolidation in this country has developed in the last two months that it is a serious question whether any of the proposed mergers that seemed to have a fair chance of going through after the interstate commerce plan was promulgated, will now be attempted.

What happened to be the most logical of the various unification plans proposed, that of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific, is likely to be abandoned. A decision as to its future policy is looked for from the deposit committee of the two roads when it meets next week. Not only do the intricacies of this consolidation, involved in the necessary divorce of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy from the Northern lines, embarrass the promoters of this merger, but the feature in the Couzens bill, which emphasizes the protection of railroad labor in any consolidation plan, limits the possibility of these economies which through consolidation primarily justify such an undertaking.

QUESTION SAVING
It has long been a debatable question whether railroad consolidations permit the saving that has been argued in their behalf. Obviously, if there is such a saving it must be affected at the expense of the body of employees. The Couzens bill insists that in the event of a consolidation this labor shall be given protection; in other words, that present jobs are not to be cancelled without some form of compensation. Probably the largest element in the actual economies of railroad unification would be found in the payroll.

The bitter opposition that has been aroused in the interstate commerce commission and in congress to holding companies that have attempted to cut the corners to consolidation by buying up the stocks of competing roads, has played an important part in changing the entire prospect for merging railroads into the 19 separate systems which the commission proposes. This policy of gaining control through open market operations has been carried on primarily by the Pennsylvania railroad interests through their subsidiaries the Pennsylvania company and the Pennrod corporation, and by the Van Sweringen through the Allegheny corporation.

HELPS EASTERN LINES Directly, this has benefited the two eastern systems which have employed these methods. Indirectly, it has thrown a wrench into the machinery of national railroad consolidation that may for a long time prevent any general effort toward bringing about a larger number of major railroad systems and reducing the total of the smaller and independent lines. The case of the Pennsylvania's ownership of Lehigh Valley and Wabash stocks and whether or not this is a violation of the Clayton Anti-Trust act, was up for hearing Wednesday before the interstate commerce commission.

Opposition to the merger of the northern lines, which had died down in the year previous to the approval of the application by the interstate commerce commission, has broken out with increased force in the last few months, and supplemented by

Speaks Here Monday

Isaac Greyearth, a South Dakota
Indian who spoke at the Fox river Valley Older Boys Conference here a few weeks ago, will return to Appleton Monday evening to talk to the general membership of the Y. M. C.
A. at a dinner meeting at the association building.

Greyearth also is being secured to talk at Appleton high school. He will discuss his youth on the reservation and the changes that have come over Indians. Greyearth now is a Y. M. C. A. worker among Indians.

Great Northern and the Northern Pacific have deposited their certificates, which gave the deposit committee authority to proceed with the merger. Nearly 66 per cent of the holders of certificates of deposit have a common interest in the two roads.
This mutuality of ownership came about largely through the distribution after the Northern securities decision.

As a stock market influence railroad consolidation has not been of prime importance, except in a few isolated cases. The possible abandonment, therefore, of the active have no bearing influence on railroad stocks. As a matter of fact, if there had not been an agreement between the Northern Pacific and the Great Northern to maintain their 5 per cent dividends until the merger plan had been disposed of, the Great Northern would probably have raised its rate to $6 a share while it was enjoying the prosperity that came from its heavy traffic in 1928 and in 1929.

Only YOU can train your wave
A "permanent" that is set once a week and neglected in the meantime is dowdy looking. No one but yourself can give your hair the attention it needs to have a smart appearance.
You comb it night and morning.
While giving it this necessary attention you can easily train the wave to such perfection that not a hair is out of place. Edna Wallace Hopper's Wave and Sheen makes it simple for you to give your wave the soft, smart undulations that it cannot possibly have without daily training.
Finally the wave falls into place with the mere touch of a comb.
Each morning instead of applying hot water, set your wave with Edna Wallace Hopper's Wave and Sheen.
It really trains the hair and gives it a lustre that means smart grooming.

New Gas Blend Better For Use In Cars, Prof States

Tulsa, Okla.—(AP)—Discovery of a more powerful gasoline, a blend especially for automobiles, was announced to the National Gasoline association's annual convention today.
The mixture restores what the motorist likes to call "the old-fashioned goodness" to gasoline, by which he means quick, easy starting in cold weather. It is described also as adding power which the "old time" gas never had and as increasing the available gasoline supply.

The blending formula is a gift to the petroleum industry in the form of Bulletin 14 from the Department of Engineering Research of the University of Michigan. It is non-commercial, anyone who wishes being free to use it.

The development was sponsored by the National Gasoline association of America, and was done under direction of George Granger Brown, professor of chemical engineering and director of research for the association. He presented today the final result of work which began four years ago.

He restores to gasoline two ingredients which have been largely removed in recent years by the methods of production and refining. One of these is natural gasoline, found in the natural gas removed at the well mouth. It is highly volatile, vaporizing so readily it fires easily in cold weather.

The other restored substance which gives the added power in hot weather is naphtha, usually removed in the refining and sold as such or included in kerosene. Its effect is opposite from that of natural gasoline, retarding vaporization. It comes into use when the engine is hot. In that stage the acceleration of modern engines tends to cause completely vaporizing fuel to choke and drag. Possibly most of the naphtha never vaporizes, Professor Brown said.

But it does not interfere with the much desired vaporizing when starting or running at low or medium temperatures. While at such temperatures it effectively prevents that loss in power figuratively attributed to some high test gasoline.

Already some big refiners, who formerly discarded natural gasoline altogether, have put it back into their "gas."

"But," Professor Brown said, "the balancing of this addition of natural by an equal addition of heavier naphtha is not now practiced. Conservatism demands the maximum use of natural gasoline and heavier naphtha in our motor fuel. This maximum is from 35 to 50 per cent of natural and about 20 to 35 per cent of naphtha in final blend."

New York.—The Charles F. Murphy Memorial committee's plans for an $50,000 flagpole in Union square, near Tammany hall, have been approved by the Municipal Arts commission.
There were protests when the memorial was proposed, but it is now announced the pole will not be a memorial to the late Tammany chief,
but will commemorate the 150th anniversary of the Declaration of Independence.

GERMAN EX-OFFICERS U. S. WAR MOTHERS EXCHANGE SALUTES

Thiaucourt, France.—(AP)—General Otto Gessler, former minister of war in Germany, who is taking a part of former war officers on a tour of inspection of the German French and American cemeteries war zone, stood at attention as 24 American Gold Star Mothers today arrived at the gates of the St. Mihiel camperv. The Germans checked their heels and bowed as the mothers alighted from their busses.

The American mothers, under the impression that the former German minister and his officers, who were all in civilian clothes, formed the reception committee charged with welcoming them, returned the salute.
Later when informed of the identity of the party all the mothers expressed pleasure. "They were such nice men, so gentlemanly," they said.

This was the mother's second visit to the cemetery and they planned to spend the remainder of the day at Nancy.
En route to the cemetery the mothers drove over the famous St.
Mihiel battlefield. The guide explained to them every detail of the American attack of Sept. 11, 1918 which resulted in straggling out the St. Mihiel salient and the capture of 433 cannon and 14,000 prisoners.
The motor busses stopped at Pleurville a few moments to allow the pilgrims to view the monument there erected to Franco-American fraternity of arms and then went on to Thiaucourt.

Columbus landed has 4,348 more women than men now. The census shows 50,070 and 45,422.

KIDNAPING TALE HOAX VIROQUA BOY ADMITS

Virolqua.—(AP)—The next time Donald Clark, 11, is "kidnaped," police first will look in any empty storehouse for the missing youngster. After telling officers a story of being kidnaped by "two men with whiskers," Donald finally admitted the hoax. He said he was afraid to return home after being put late. So he just slept in a parking box all night.

how to build a range!
A thousand modern housewives designed this new Renown, shown here for give you ample room to work and plenty of room to cook! Now you can have it—with a dozen other conveniences just as important!

It's here now—at our store and we want you to see it! Come down during

Rinso
for whiter washes

"A little goes so far!"
says this Appleton woman

"My neighbor always used to get whiter clothes. I wondered why, until she told me about the hard-water soap, Rinso, and how its rich, safe suds loosen dirt. I've been using Rinso in my washer since then! I love the way it gets clothes sweet and clean, so quickly, even without boiling. A little Rinso goes so far, too—even in our hard water. And it certainly makes dishes shine!"

ELLA POTTERTON,
Appleton, Wisconsin.

For tub washing—marvelous!
Rinso soaks clothes whiter than they can be scrubbed. Saves the clothes; spares the hands.

Cup for cup, Rinso gives twice as much suds as lightweight, puffed-up soaps—even in hardest water. Safe, lasting suds. The makers of 38 washers recommend Rinso. Get the BIG package.
